No Peace Offers Yet, Says Roosevelt

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt asserted at a press conference today no offers or overtures of peace had been made in the European war.

To some of his hearers it seemed the President meant no overtures had been made officially either in Europe or in the United States.

For the most part Mr. Roosevelt parried questions about prospects of an armistice in the European conflict. Reporters attempted to sound him out in view of intimations from Germany Hitler would accept mediation if the President so proposed.

Small Craft Afire Off Qualicum Beach

An unidentified small vessel early this afternoon was reported burning well out in the Gulf of Georgia from Qualicum Beach. A number of smaller craft were clustered about the burning craft, police reports from Qualicum stated.

Germany Inflating?

OTTAWA (CP)—Huge increases in German currency circulation within the last year, and particularly last August, attracted the attention of financial experts here today and give rise to a belief Germany is freely using the printing press to meet its war costs.

An increase of 1,918,000,000 reichsmarks in August, equivalent to $767,000,000, is considered entirely out of line with what might be expected owing to increased need for currency due to larger government payrolls and increased industrial activity consequent upon war efforts. The figure inevitably leads to the conclusion Germany is attempting to finance the war by inflation.

Nuffield Gives $445,000 To British Red Cross

LONDON (CP)—Viscount Nuffield celebrated his 62nd birthday by contributing £100,000 ($445,000) at the Mansion House to the Red Cross.

'Deeds, Not Words'

LONDON (CP)—Clement Attlee, leader of the Labor opposition, called on Adolf Hitler tonight to "show it by deeds" if he wants peace. In a nation-wide broadcast he said the British people are "not prepared to be fooled by a man whose actions show that no reliance can be placed on his words."

1 DEAD, 1 HELD AFTER DANCE FIGHT

Christian Thorvald Neilson is held by B.C. Police on a charge of manslaughter at Campbell River following the death during a fist fight of John A. Murphy.

Police reports say Neilson and Murphy went to a Campbell River dance Saturday night, got into an argument and decided to settle it outside.

Neilson hit Murphy once and Murphy went down. He died soon after.

An inquest was scheduled today at Campbell River.

Fresh Chum Salmon Export Halted

OTTAWA (CP)—Export of British Columbia chum salmon from Canada in the fresh state has been prohibited for the remainder of the current calendar year under authority of the War Measures Act, the fisheries department announced today.

The prohibition was imposed at the request of the British Columbia government and is aimed at conserving the salmon supply for use within the Empire.

SALMON INQUIRY ON

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—Gillnet operations in waters outside the mouth of the Fraser River have extended greatly in the last 10 years, Major J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries for western Canada, told Mr. Justice Sloan's Royal Commission which today resumed its investigation into fish traps and purse seine fishing.

Motherwell said closed-season policy on the river was designed in part to protect the gillnetters.

Sugar Cut Ordered

EDMONTON (CP)—Order of the Alberta price spreads board directing sugar prices to revert to the September 1 basis is scheduled to become effective tomorrow.

The price at retail stores September 1 was $6.70 per 100 pounds, and since then it has been advanced 50 cents.

Wholesalers and retailers here declined to indicate whether the reduction in price would be made effective as scheduled.

Liquor Rise Starts Run to Wine Drunks

VANCOUVER (CP)—Increases in liquor prices which followed the Dominion government's war taxes has resulted in a great increase in sale of home-made wines in Vancouver, City Prosecutor Oscar Orr said in police court here today.

"I was told by one officer that he took 50 bottles of wine from intoxicated persons within the past week," Orr said, testifying at the trial of Jack Mitchell, who was convicted on a charge of selling liquor and fined $300 by Magistrate H. S. Wood.

Louie Mattlo, charged with keeping liquor for sale, was convicted by Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson and fined $500, while Mrs. A. Pozzobon received a suspended sentence on a similar charge.

25,000 Empire Airmen a Year To Be Trained In Canada

AT ST. PAUL'S—The King and Queen attended a morning service in St. Paul's Cathedral and in this photo cabled from London, Queen Elizabeth is shown shaking hands with the Lord Mayor, Sir Frank Bowater. His Majesty, on right, carried a gas mask. The photograph was taken as Their Majesties were received at the west door of the Cathedral by the Dean, Very Rev. Walter R. Matthews, the Lord Mayor of London and the Lady Mayoress. During the services, Dean Matthews prayed for the British fighting forces, for the ill and wounded of both sides, and the Divine intervention to hasten peace.

France Accepts 'No Hitler Peace'

By TAYLOR HENRY

PARIS (AP)—Premier Daladier replied to Adolf Hitler's peace overtures tonight with a declaration that France and Great Britain "will continue to fight to obtain a definite guarantee of security" for the "lasting peace of Europe."

The Premier's declaration, made in a nationwide broadcast, apparently closed the door to peace negotiations on the basis of the formula advanced by Hitler in his Reichstag speech Friday.

Consultation with Britain preceded the address in which M. Daladier said the Allies entered the war "because Germany wanted to impose her domination on Europe."

He declared: "The peace that Germany offers now is one of ruse and violence. There will, however, be a real peace in the future."

He reminded his audience of the German conquest of Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland. After each of these conquests, M. Daladier declared, Hitler had asserted he had no more territorial demands.

"Every six months Germany makes new territorial demands and then says she is satisfied," he declared.

"A security of nations can come about only by mutual understanding devoid of all surprises."

"The time has passed when a territorial conquest brings happiness to people."

"I affirm again solemnly that we are fighting and will continue to fight until we obtain a guarantee of peace."

"If we demobilize now, again in six months we might have to face another aggression."

RAEDER QUARRELS WITH RIBBENTROP

LONDON (CP)—The Daily Sketch today reported Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, Commander-in-chief of the German Navy, tried unsuccessfully to resign his post as a result of Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop's "Baltic blunder."

The newspapers said Raeder protested Von Ribbentrop's action, enabling Russia to grasp all strategic points and islands in the eastern Baltic, hemmed in the German Navy in the east while the British fleet bottled it up in the west.

"We understand that Raeder warned the Foreign Office before Von Ribbentrop's last visit to Moscow against conceding anything that would jeopardize naval action in the Baltic in case of a dispute with the Soviets."

"Von Ribbentrop has now both army and navy chiefs against him. As a result of Raeder's unaccepted resignation and the antagonism of the navy to further Soviet encroachments, the Nazis are to do all in their power to prevent Stalin from getting important naval points from Finland."

BIG WAR ORDERS LET FOR CLOTHING

VANCOUVER—Order for tailoring 1,200 overcoats for Canadian navy men at Esquimalt has been placed here with Gordon Campbell Ltd. Bidding is now proceeding on 13,000 yards of cloth for the Canadian navy.

A contract for production of Canadian army shoes has been let to J. Leckie Co. Ltd. here. Specifications call for more comfortable shoes than were given the troops in the last war and they will be black, not brown.

Chamberlain Speaks Thursday

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain today postponed from Wednesday until Thursday the House of Commons speech in which he is expected to reply to Adolf Hitler's peace overtures.

Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the exchequer, told the House the postponement had been decided on in order to allow fuller consultation with the Dominion governments.

The Prime Minister's speech thus is scheduled for the same day David Lloyd George, Prime Minister during the first Great War, has called a meeting of his Council for Peace and Reconstruction to hear an outline of his policy.

Skeptical Diplomats See Early War Break

WASHINGTON—Diplomats here do not accept at 100 per cent assurances that no peace is possible, as "anything can happen and anything may happen."

Nor is it conceded that the war, in any case, need necessarily be long. A break in either one or both of two areas, morale and finance, is a consideration that was not so quick a likelihood in the last war, according to the Whaley-Eaton financial analysis.

Experts, however, insist that apparent hesitation by the Allies on the west front has ample military justification and does not require the explanation that both sides are holding back pending the outcome of secret peace negotiations. A Washington dictum is "Trust no statesman in Europe."

FIRST PHOTO OF FRENCH TROOPS ON GERMAN SOIL—That trenches still play an important part in war technique of 1939 is emphasized by this radiophoto of French troops "somewhere on the western front" moving through a communication trench. Allied censors emphasized that the war memorial and the shaft in background identify this scene as being in former German territory now occupied by French troops. (Radiophoto.)

Warplane Output To Be Speeded

By J. F. SANDERSON

LONDON (CP)—Sir Kingsley Wood, Secretary for Air, announced in the House of Commons today that Canada will be used as an advanced school for training pilots and airmen of all parts of the Empire.

Outlining the achievements and objects of the Royal Air Force since the outbreak of war, the air minister explained the new set-up, which will make Canada the air capital of the Empire.

The governments of Britain, Australia, New Zealand and Canada have agreed to set up preliminary training schools in their own countries. Graduates of these schools will be sent to Canada for advanced technical training.

The scheme will mean that many thousands of pilots and airmen will be trained in Canada, but no accurate estimate of the total could be obtained. It was thought likely the number would exceed 25,000 annually.

In addition Canadian production of bombers and fighters will be speeded up and finished aircraft flown across the Atlantic for delivery in the theatres of war.

Each dominion will retain its separate air force, which will work in co-operation with the R.A.F. under allied command.

ENORMOUS EFFORT

"The undertaking is one of great magnitude," Sir Kingsley declared. "Its development will result in a very great and rapid increase in the number of training schools, already large, and achieve increased output of first-line pilots, observers and air gunners, which, combined with our home effort, will ensure that the greatly increased requirements in trained personnel are fully met."

"It will be seen that this undertaking involves the concentration of advanced air training, largely in Canada," Sir Kingsley said. "With the facilities which Canada possesses this co-operative effort will, in the opinion of the government of the United Kingdom, prove to be of most essential and decisive character."

"The mission from this country headed by Lord Riverdale, who will be aided by a specially selected technical staff, already is on its way to Canada to meet there corresponding missions from Australia and New Zealand."

South Africa, Sir Kingsley declared, had not entered the scheme, preferring to train its pilots at home. But, he added, "I am authorized to say the Union authorities intend to make their training as complete as possible and to expand their air forces to the fullest extent of their resources."

Britain, Dominions Make Plans to Win Mastery of Air

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will be the centre for training the fighting airmen of the British Empire, according to a plan announced by Prime Minister Mackenzie King here today.

Mr. King's statement was released almost simultaneously with a similar announcement concerning Empire pilots made in the British House of Commons by Sir Kingsley Wood, Secretary for Air.

(In London it was estimated more than 25,000 Empire airmen would be trained yearly in Canada.)

The Canadian Prime Minister said the governments of the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand and Canada had agreed on a co-operative scheme for training and expanding the air forces of the Empire and that the plan involved concentration of intermediate and advanced training for pilots, observers and air gunners in Canada.

Mr. King described the development as highly important and designed to provide air forces of overwhelming strength. Combined with the air training scheme is a plan for expanded production of aircraft about which Mr. King gave no details.

Steps have already been taken, however, looking to the manufacture of aircraft and parts in Canada on an expanded scale.

USE ALL RESOURCES
The chief object of the plan is to utilize to the full extent the natural advantages and the facilities existing in the Dominions for training airmen and producing aircraft free from danger of enemy interference.

Both Australia and New Zealand will set up training schools, but the facilities for advanced training, except those already existing in the United Kingdom, will be concentrated in Canada.

Consequently after learning the elementary features of military flying, fighting airmen from Australia, New Zealand and the United Kingdom will come to Canada to be taught the fine points and acquire finished skill along with Canadian airmen.

Following completion of the training in Canada, the men trained will join the air force units maintained by the government in the theatre of war or the United Kingdom Royal Air Force units. Necessarily the development will involve a rapid increase in the number and size of air training schools in Canada.

MISSIONS COMING

Within the next few weeks missions from the United Kingdom, Australia and New Zealand will meet in Canada to arrange for the rapid execution of the plan in consultation with Canadian authorities.

The British mission, headed by Lord Riverdale, is already on the way to Canada.

The plan represents the most comprehensive move towards Empire co-operation in defence yet taken. The air services of the Dominions and the United Kingdom function under their several governments independently of one another and this will be the first attempt, through governmental co-operation, to pool work and materials.

Proposals for the training of British pilots in Canada have been under discussion for nearly two years. The matter reached the stage of debate in the Canadian Parliament at the 1938 session, and shortly after the end of the session, in July, 1938, Mr. King announced the Canadian government had offered the British government facilities of the Royal Canadian Air Force for training Royal Air Force pilots.

PLANS OF 1938

During the summer of 1938 the British Air Ministry sent group Capt. J. M. Robb to Canada to investigate training facilities here and the first detailed plans were disclosed by Hon. Ian Mackenzie, then Minister of National Defence, speaking in the House of Commons last April.

He said arrangements were being made for Royal Air Force pilots to obtain intermediate and advanced training at the Royal Canadian Air Force stations at Camp Borden, Ont. and Trenton, Ont., respectively.

At that time it was not expected the number of British pilots trained would exceed 50 in any one year. That, of course, was peace-time and war conditions are certain to put that estimate far in the shade.

It was then understood that some, if not all, of the R.A.F. pilots trained in Canada would be Canadians enlisting for service with the R.A.F. through the recruiting organization the R.A.F. maintains in Canada.

One advantage of training pilots in Canada as compared with the United Kingdom is the distance from the scene of hostilities and consequent security from attacks on hangars, planes and personnel.

Another advantage of equal or greater importance is the wide spaces removed from towns and centres of population to be found in Canada.

North Europe Watches Soviet's Manoeuvres

By LYNN HEINZERLING STOCKHOLM (AP)—Europe's northern neutrals anxiously watched the approaching showdown between Soviet Russia and Finland today for a further sign of the new order in the Baltic region.

Confronted by Russia's quest for supremacy in that part of Europe, the northern countries which had not already signed on the Soviet dotted line wondered how Finland would make out.

Finland, Sweden, Denmark and Norway were drawn together at Helsingfors in a discussion of how to sidestep the war and carry on their vital commerce in the Baltic and North Seas.

Sweden, aside from Finland the most immediately concerned in the expansion of Soviet power, strengthened her defence forces and hastened construction of air raid shelters.

Finland herself practiced air defence while a delegation headed by Dr. Juho Kusti Paasikivi, minister to Stockholm, entreated last night for Moscow in response to the Kremlin's invitation—as Finnish officials put it—to exchange opinions about political and economic problems. The problems were not specified.

The Finnish party was expected to reach Moscow tomorrow morning.

The deliberation of the Finns railway trip was contrasted with the speed of airplane travel adopted by representatives of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania in carrying out their negotiations at Moscow—negotiations which resulted in broad military, naval and trade concessions to the U.S.S.R.

CROWD SINGS

"Never shall our land bow before the foreign tyrant," sang the crowd at Helsingfors station last night as the delegation set out. It was part of the national anthem of a people Russian-ruled until 1917.

Paasikivi, standing on the train platform, bit his lips to conceal his emotion. It was he who led the nation as premier when Finland was establishing her independence from Russia in 1918-1920.

Hundreds of patriotic Finns jammed the Helsingfors station an hour before Paasikivi's departure. While they sang, Paasikivi shook hands with Premier A. K.
Cajander and then waved his hat at the throng.

Paasikivi was accompanied by Col. A. A. Paasanen as technical adviser and J. A. Nykopp, political chief of the foreign office.

Backed by the presence of additional reservists called last week for "extraordinary service to strengthen the national neutrality," Finland was improving her Russian border fortifications and engaged in widespread blackout tests of air raid defences.

(Finland's armed forces last year consisted of 29,012 officers and 31,000 men, including the air force, coast defence and territorial organization, according to the Statesman's Yearbook.)

In Sweden a government order yesterday instructed about 100,000 reservists who would have left the colors October 15, to remain in service.)

(On the Swedish-Finnish frontier last night, the whole Torne Valley, an area of about 4,000 square miles, was blacked out in air-raid practice.)

By WITT HANCOCK
MOSCOW (AP)—Reports of a concentration of Russian naval power in the Gulf of Finland emphasized today the vigor of Soviet Russia's drive to regain the dominant position in the Baltic Sea
she held before the World War.

Dispatches from Kronstadt, the big naval base near Leningrad, said a "whole armada of battleships" was massed there and that naval and military activity was unusually intense.

Kronstadt is only a few miles from Finland's territorial waters.
The naval mobilization also coincided with the massing of hundreds of thousands of Soviet troops along the frontiers facing the Baltic states.

Reports from the frontier said
"military trains daily go to the Baltic area" while sailors are studying the geography of the Baltic states as well as the habits of the people.

Moscow newspapers reported Sweden had purchased 102 warplanes and 10 torpedo boats from Germany under an agreement made prior to the outbreak of war.

Good Wishes to China

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull today cabled his good wishes for the wellfare of China on the occasion of the 28th anniversary of the establishment of the Chinese republic.

Hitler Wants Peace Terms But Will Fight On

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
BERLIN (AP)—Adolf Hitler today declared Germany was determined to fight the war to the bitter end if necessary and once more laid the responsibility for continuing the struggle on the Reich's adversaries.

In a 21-minute speech opening the Nazi winter relief campaign, the Reichsfuehrer said he had expressed his country's "readiness for peace," but if this were declined by the western allies the fight would go on.

The winter relief work, he demanded, must attain results never before achieved, not only because great tasks lie ahead created by the war, but also because the world must be shown, he said, that rumors of disunion within the Reich are unfounded.

Germans must make common cause, the Fuehrer said, "in battle, in victory and finally in peace."

"Germany must once and for all convince the world that it must be allowed to live undisturbed within its own living space . . .

POLAND RUINED

"In a few weeks the state which thought it could threaten German interests most insolently (Poland) has been demolished—thanks to our soldiers and our military strategy," the Fuehrer declared.

"What the future may bring we do not know. But of this we are certain: No power on earth ever again will be able to force Germany to her knees.

"They will not defeat us militarily, economically or psychi-cally."

Tremendous cheering greeted his declaration, delivered in a speech in Berlin's huge Sports-palast opening the annual Nazi winter relief campaign.

"Before us stands the eternal life of our people," he said.
"Nothing can shake us. Nothing can bring us to despair. On the contrary, whatever the other world may choose, that it will get it."

"The way ahead of us can not be more difficult than that behind us. In pursuing this way we are strengthened by the fact that we have achieved a community of spirit in our nation."

The Fuehrer, referring to his Reichstag speech of last Friday, said he had given "expression to our readiness for peace."

Hitler said the winter relief work would be devoted chiefly to the Red Cross, which would practically be merged with it.

SACRIFICES BY ALL

"Let no one henceforth think of the greatness of his sacrifice, but of the sacrifices of those who gave their all," he said. "Compared to their sacrifices those at home are nothing."

"This year's relief must exceed everything hitherto achieved," he added. "We want to show people abroad that silly attempts to find evidence of a lack of unanimity among us are vain . . . We want to make them respect our constitution."

"We want to bring evidence of what we can endure and accomplish," the Fuehrer declared and then added sarcastically: "It is to be hoped that others can do as well."

"The decision of peace or war lies with others. We simply have a grim determination to fight."

"The day must come when Germany, without being interfered with by others, can within its living space, mold its own destiny and partake of the goods of the world to which it has a right."

"In this spirit, I open winter relief work of 1939-1940."

Man Who Executed Hauptmann Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert G.
Elliott, 65, official executioner for five eastern states, died today at his home in Richmond, Hills, Queens. Cause of death was given as coronary embolism.

Among the persons he put to death were Bruno Richard Hauptmann, kidnapper of the Lindbergh baby, and Sacco and Vanzett, convicted in Massachusetts of murder and the central figures in a world-wide protest.

NANAIMO GIRL PASSES

island musical festivals' piano and elocution classes, died at the family residence, Rosehill Avenue, at the age of nine years. She was born in Lloydminster, Sask., and had lived here six years. She attended Brechin School. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, and one sister,
Annie E., of this city.

Funeral services will take place this afternoon, Rev. R. T. Reid officiating.

Hinted as Nazi Radio Voice

LONDON — Norman Baillie-Stewart, according to reports here, is believed to be the mysterious announcer who gives

N. BAILLIE-STEWART

news reports from a German radio station in a decided Oxford accent.

Baillie-Stewart, an Edinburgh-born ex-lieutenant in the Sea-forth Highlanders, was known as the Tower of London's "Mysterious Prisoner," prior to his trial and conviction in 1933, for be-

French Turn Back German Assaults

PARIS (AP)—French troops were reported today to have turned back numerous German assaults south of the strategic city of Saarbruecken with hand grenades and rifle fire.

The Nazi thrusts, these reports indicated, apparently were aimed at breaking French lines tightening on three sides of Saar-bruecken. German raiding parties also sought to take prisoners to obtain information on French advance positions, it was said.

In both objectives, French dispatches said, the Germans failed.

The Germans were said to have fought desperately before retiring under a raking fire. Saar-bruecken, rich German industrial city around which the operations centred, is near the middle of the northern front.

A heavy artillery battle, launched by the Germans Sunday and answered by French batteries in a 90-mile sector from the Luxembourg border to Lauterbourg, provided a background for the action.

Terse reports of the fighting were contained in a communique issued this morning by the French general staff, which said
"enemy patrols are still very active, notably east and west of the Saar." The communique noted "reciprocal artillery action in the same region."

Both the French and Germans were reported moving up additional munitions, men and equipment.

While reports from the front indicated the Germans were gradually employing larger units in assaults in the Saarbruecken sector, French observers said it was impossible to say whether the increased Nazi activity was a prelude to a major offensive.

These observers pointed out if the Germans plan any large-scale operations they must be undertaken swiftly, because little more than three weeks of good weather can be expected.

There was no indication the French planned an attempt to push their lines farther into Germany before the weather breaks.

John Appleton Dies in Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—John Appleton, 72, former newspaperman and for several years secretary-treasurer of the Dominion Mortgage and Investments Association and the Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association, died here today.

He retired from both offices in 1936.

Born in Marton, Yorkshire, England, Mr. Appleton came to Canada in 1890 and six years later was president of the Trades and Labor Council of Winnipeg.

In 1898 he was appointed financial editor and municipal editor of the Winnipeg Free Press, resigning in 1912 to become editor of the Financial Post, Toronto.

Surviving him are the widow and six children.

Wild Rumors About Allies in Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Rumors that the Allies had asked for an armistice, that "the Chamberlain-Churchill government" in Britain had resigned and King George had abdicated caused excitement in Berlin for an hour this morning until they were denied by DNB, the German news agency.

DNB said the rumors were spread by certain "secret service agents." One persistent report was that a German radio station had broadcast news of an armistice—to be in effect until October 18—but the propaganda ministry denied this.

The rumors caused numerous telephone inquiries to the Associated Press office, including one from the office of the former Crown Prince of Germany, others from Japanese and Italian correspondents, the American Chamber of Commerce, bankers and attorneys.

Russian Moves Menace Germany

LONDON (CP)—The British press discussed editorially today Russia's moves in northern Europe.

The Times of London in an editorial on Soviet pressure on the Baltic states said Finland's size and geographical position gave her an advantage not enjoyed by Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, on the south shore of the Baltic.

"She belongs indeed to the Scandinavian rather than to the Baltic group," The Times said. "In recent years particularly close ties have been drawn between Finland and Sweden and the political, historical and cultural connections of one as of the other are with western Europe."

The Manchester Guardian said:
"It would seem that in the arrangements between Germany and Russia, while Finland is assigned to Russia as in her sphere of influence, Sweden is assigned to Germany, so that any attempt on the part of Sweden to help Finland against the Russians would be stopped by the Germans."

The London Daily Herald said that Fuehrer Hitler's "anxiety for an armistice on his own terms becomes more than ever apparent and the world well understands the reason."

"It is not that Hitler has been converted overnight into a pacifist. . . . It is not even that his uneasy alliance with Russia warms his heart. For, in fact, the westward advance of Russia looks more menacing to Germany every day. Hitler's real motive is the knowledge that he cannot fight Britain and France successfully until he has had a little more time to expand his naval forces and to develop his sources of economic supply in the east.
For Britain has broken the Nazi submarine attacks in an astonishingly short time, a fact which Italy has also doubtless noted."

9 DIE IN CRASH NEAR TORONTO

TORONTO (CP)—Seven school children and two women were killed today when a Canadian Pacific train struck an automobile at the Brown's line level crossing, in Etobicoke Township, immediately west of Toronto.

The dead: Mrs. Gordon Brown and her daughters, Marion and Dorothy; Mrs. H. H. Davis and her daughters, Verna and Gladys;
two brothers named Tibando, and Joyce Boyle, 10.

Mrs. Brown was driving the children to the swamp school near the Eaton farm at Islington.
The car was travelling north on Brown's line when the westbound train struck it, strewn the bodies of its occupants along the right-of-way for a quarter of a mile.

There was a tenth victim, a pet dog.

Robb Webb of Toronto, a passenger on the train, said the scene following the crash was a "terrible sight."

"I saw about four or five bodies strewn around as I got off the train and it sickened me so I climbed right back into the coach," Webb said.

"The train stopped quickly with a terrific grinding sound following the impact."

Tony Miles, garage operator at Islington, said the automobile's parts littered the right of way for 1,000 feet.

Predicts War's End Before Christmas

NEW YORK (AP)—United States Representative Bruce Barton, Republican, New York, says he is willing to make a "small wager" the European war will be over by Christmas.

Barton told a Y.M.C.A. founders' day dinner that the people of every nation had been disillu-sioned by the first Great War and were eager for lasting peace.

Latest British Planes Better Than Germans

LONDON (CP)—Sir Kingsley
Wood, Secretary for Air, giving the Commons today a report on activities of the Royal Air Force, declared a "complete photographic map of the Siegfried Line" had been made.

He asserted the latest British fighting planes were "definitely better than German counterparts."

Sir Kingsley mentioned "almost daily" clashes between German and British planes, and said a German Messerschmidt fighter had fallen intact into French hands, permitting the British to "test our convictions" British fighters were better.

As evidence of British air power he told of British planes covering "the whole length of Germany, from the Saar to the North Sea, all without serious interruption" on a scouting flight.

The planes landed safely in England, he said, and photographs taken on the flight went into a map of the Siegfried Line.

During the first four weeks of the war he said submarines were sighted by aircraft on 72 occasions and 34 attacks were delivered, some of which were "undoubtedly successful."

Louisiana Governor Booed and Hissed

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A mass meeting of 5,000 angry citizens today booed the name of Governor Earl K. Long for more than a minute broke up without disorder at the criminal district court building here today after hearing speeches denouncing District Attorney Charles A. Byrne and launching a movement for his recall.

Meanwhile Byrne was busy inside the building arranging the hearing in his own defence against charges filed by seven members of the Orleans parish grand jury yesterday demanding he be removed as their counselor.

Loud boos, hisses, and yells penetrated the courtroom as eyewitnesses to yesterday's turmoil described what took place then.

3 Killed, 31 Hurt In New York Blast

NEW YORK (AP)—Three persons were killed and 31 others injured today when an explosion wrecked a dry cleaning plant and tore through the wall of a motion picture theatre housing 75 spectators.

Firemen expressed belief the blast was caused by cleaning fluid fumes accumulating in the basement.

VICTORIA MAN ON TRAVELERS' BOARD

VANCOUVER (CP) — Donald Smith of Vancouver succeeds Harry B. Vivian, also of Vancouver, as president of the British Columbia branch of the Northwest Commercial Travelers' Association. He was elected to the position at the branch's annual convention here.

Russell F. Smith of Vancouver, member of the executive of the N.W.C.T.A. last year, automatically became vice-president of the main body, while Mr. Vivian took his position on the parent organization's executive board.

George H. Hall of Victoria was named vice-president of the provincial branch; E. W. Deans, Vancouver, treasurer; and Alan G. Carruthers, Zeb P. Estey, James H. Humphries, Fred T. Orchard, Walter E. Trymp, George T. Smith and Jack Balkin, all of Vancouver, directors.

Alex Gamble and J. H. Roe, both of Winnipeg, president and executive secretary respectively of the parent body, were present at the branch convention, and said the association was in a position to pay about 50 per cent of its total mortality liability, and that its financial position had improved during the year by $87,000.

Mr. Gamble said the association hoped the special tax of $100 which outside commercial travelers are required to pay in Alberta would either be abolished or scaled down to a nominal sum.

New $300,000 Plant For Royal City

VANCOUVER (CP) — A new unit of the British Columbia Plywoods Ltd. will be constructed at the company's plant in New Westminster at an estimated cost of $300,000, according to an announcement by H. R. MacMillan, its president.

Mr. MacMillan said machinery for the plant, including equipment for a new power plant, had been ordered and that he expected the new unit to be in operation by February.

The new plant will concentrate on production of plywood by the "hot press" process, which makes the finished product permanently waterproof, he said. It will add 100 men to the existing plant's list of 300 employees.

Germany Asks Russia Send Food

SOFTIA (AP) — Trade negotiations between Germany and Soviet Russia designed to provide food products for Germany were indicated today as a German agricultural products trade delegation which recently completed an agreement with Bulgaria prepared to leave for Moscow.

It was reported the conversations here resulted in an agreement for Bulgaria to sell meat, hemp and other products to Germany. Exportation of these products was prohibited with the start of the war.

Lapointe Plays Duplessis For Election Manoeuvres

OTTAWA (CP) — Right Hon. Ernest Lapointe, federal Minister of Justice, held the spotlight today in the centre of Quebec's political stage as leaders of the three provincial parties resumed their campaigns after the Thanksgiving holiday.

Mr. Lapointe followed Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, works minister, into the fight with a broadcast address from Ottawa last night in which he said that if the Union Nationale government should win the October 25 general election he and his fellow ministers from Quebec would resign from the Dominion cabinet. But he voiced faith in his province, declaring his confidence it would not give a verdict that would "be acclaimed in Berlin and Moscow."

Mr. Lapointe, who will be followed into the campaign by Hon. C. G. Power, Postmaster-General, charged that Premier Duplessis asked the Quebec electorate for a verdict against the Dominion Government in a "definite and clear-cut vote of want of confidence."

The minister's speech was broadcast over a chain of Quebec stations.

GANGSTERS' METHODS

After saying the provincial election is "an act of national sabotage, and already the methods of gangsters are in use," Mr. Lapointe continued:

"Cowardice on my part would be to remain in the cabinet in spite of Quebec's wishes. I repeat it. If the people of the province prove by their votes that they believe the atrocious calumnies and the shameful lies which are the basis and substance of Mr. Duplessis' campaign, how could we be expected to continue to represent them and to speak for them at the council of the nation? I leave to my Quebec fellow-countrymen the responsibility of this important decision and I will accept it."

"But I have faith in my province. I am confident that it will not render a verdict that will be acclaimed in Berlin and Moscow on election night. Nazi and Communist agents have stirred up dissension in all the countries of America. Quebec will not allow itself to be influenced by such propaganda."

(The three Quebec cabinet ministers besides Mr. Lapointe are Hon. C. G. Power, Postmaster-General; Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Public Works, and Hon. Raoul Dandurand, minister without portfolio and government leader in the Senate.)

VOLUNTARY ACTION

Canada entered the war willingly as a free nation to bring her support to the two great peoples that gave her life and liberty and whose existence was the guarantee of world order, he said. Canada fought with them against Nazism and Bolshevism, "those two monstrous ideologies," and the battle against them was one for civilization.

Neutrality for Canada was impossible. It would mean Canada's harbors would be closed to the armed ships of Britain, British sailors seeking refuge in Canada would be interned. There would be armed struggle against the soldiers and sailors of the King if they wished to violate Canada's neutrality.

"I ask you in all sincerity if there's a single one of my compatriots who believes that such a state of affairs is possible," he submitted.

In Canada compromise was necessary. French-Canada respected the wishes of the Anglo-Saxon peoples in Canada and they in turn respected Quebec's opposition to conscription.

"It is to that stand that we won the opinion of Parliament and it is in that way we maintained Canadian union," he continued. "Our people everywhere loyally accepted the effort. It refused to accept as a policy in international relations the selfish words spoken by Cain: 'I am not my brother's keeper.'"

"They realized that Hitler's barbarism, broken treaties, sacred pledges trampled underfoot constituted threats to world civilization the repercussions of which would not fail to reach us."

Canada prayed for re-establishment of peace and justice, he said, "but in Quebec, Mr. Duplessis has ordered an election! And what an election! A fight in which he already has sown the seeds of conflict and division which may have irreparable consequences elsewhere, all spiritual value have been put at the service of the state. In Quebec, an election takes the state to task."

"At a time when the public must be reassured, Mr. Duplessis strives to frighten them. This electrical adventure is an act of national sabotage. Disunion has already crept into his own cabinet. How can he ignore the effect his words and action will have elsewhere?"

Mr. Duplessis had said he was out to defend provincial autonomy. But Quebec knew that he, Mr. Lapointe, had been during all his parliamentary life a champion of provincial autonomy. As recently as 1935 he had challenged federal legislation on the ground it infringed provincial autonomy.

The Privy Council subsequently upheld that stand in regard to half a dozen "extremely important social measures" enacted by the Bennett administration. Against these measures Mr. Duplessis, though Conservative leader in Quebec, had never protested.

The Quebec premier had refused to co-operate with the Royal commission on federal-provincial relations though it was concerned with financial relations between federal and provincial governments, Mr. Lapointe asserted.

WEEKLY ATTACK

"The only co-operation we have received from him in the past three years has been a weekly outburst in a press interview every Monday, he said."

The Quebec government had not co-operated with Ottawa in respect to unemployment, Mr. Lapointe declared, and letters from the Minister of Labor had gone unanswered for months. Quebec had delayed negotiation of an agreement.

Mr. Duplessis complained bitterly of the War Measures Act, the Justice minister said, but did not complain of it before the present election, though it was enacted unanimously in 1914. One of Mr. Duplessis' ministers, Hon. Thomas Chapais, also a member of the Senate, supported all measures enacted at the September session of the present parliament.

"All the other provinces have accepted the war measures, promised their co-operation and have given it loyally, he said. The Premier of Ontario, Mr. Hepburn has come forward, generously extending his hand to the Prime Minister of Canada and placing at the disposal of the Dominion Government all the resources of Ontario."

"By contrast, Mr. Duplessis chooses to call an election."

QUEBEC'S DEBT GROWS

It was called by Mr. Duplessis that the federal foreign exchange control was a measure of centralization and assimilation and was a reason for an election, Mr. Lapointe said.

"I do not hesitate to say the true reason of this election is the unfortunate financial situation in which his government finds itself. They have spent provincial funds like drunken sailors. The funded debt of the province had increased from $149,748,000 on June 30, 1936, to $285,000,576 on March 31 last."

A few years ago Quebec credit was the best of all Canadian provinces, Mr. Lapointe said. Today the Quebec government had to go out of Canada to float a loan and "to accept the unbelievable provision that the principle and interest of its bonds shall be payable in United States or Canadian funds, at the discretion of the bondholders. This could be costly with United States funds at a premium."

"I challenge Mr. Duplessis to give the electors a true picture of the present situation," said Mr. Lapointe. "I ask him to state, among other things, how many million dollars in unpaid warrants are in the hands of contractors for provincial works who have not yet been paid in cash. I also ask him to state what amount he will actually require to meet his commitments between now and the end of the current year."

"Since autonomy has been made an issue, allow me to point out that there is no surer means for a province to lose her autonomy than to be incapable of meeting her obligations and to find herself in a position verging on bankruptcy."

It was not true that the foreign exchange control-board had prevented Mr. Duplessis obtaining other funds from the United States, Mr. Lapointe said, for the United States' Neutrality Act prevented it.

CENSORSHIP

Complaint was also heard from Mr. Duplessis concerning censorship. Mr. Lapointe went on, but censorship was necessary in time of war—all nations used it.

"This measure applies equally to everyone," he said. "The speech I am delivering at this very moment was submitted to the censorship bureau."

Mr. Duplessis' refusal to submit a text to the censors before delivering a radio address was "mere childishness," Mr. Lapointe declared. The speech of Paul Gouin, leading L'Action Libérale Nationale Party, a few days ago showed that censorship did not hamper criticism of the Dominion Government or its members.

"Allow me to say a few words with regard to Mr. Gouin, the great blunderer," said Mr. Lapointe. "He shoved Mr. Duplessis into power unwittingly, and just as unwittingly he is now endeavoring to keep him there."

Fortunately, the utter insignificance of his movement renders him (Mr. Gouin) harmless."

It was a "fantastic assertion" by Mr. Duplessis that a vote for Adélard Godbout, Quebec Liberal leader, and for Lapointe would be a vote for conscription. In the first Great War, Mr. Lapointe had strongly supported the government's war efforts until 1917, at which time he fought with all his soul and might against conscription, he said, but Mr. Duplessis was not at his side.

"I am opposed to conscription today just as I was then," Mr. Lapointe said.

"I stated in the House of Commons that I would not be a member of any government which imposed conscription and that I would never support such an administration. The Prime Minister has stated the present government would never resort to conscription."

STAND AS BULWARK

"Mr. Duplessis says that we are standing for conscription. You know that this is not true. He knows it is not true. We are the bulwark standing between you and conscription. We are the wall protecting you and even those who are insulting us in the ranks of Mr. Duplessis' army."

A parliamentary correspondent for a newspaper in sympathy with the Duplessis government had written there was a move to bring about Mr. Lapointe's retirement so a union government might enforce conscription, the minister said.

"If there is such a move, why strengthen it and help to insure my retirement?" he asked.

Mr. Lapointe said he wished his compatriots to be treated as equals and they were. A French-Canadian was a deputy minister of militia. A French-Canadian was in command of the Montreal military district.

"When one recalls the last war and the treatment that was meted out to us, it seems to me that the importance of the recent changes cannot fail to be recognized. Furthermore, as you know, our young men have enlisted, even enthusiastically, and recruiting has been going on in a more than satisfactory way."

In entering the campaign, Mr. Lapointe said he knew he would have to put up with all that sado-hate can inspire.

"I stated this election was an act of national sabotage, and already the methods of gangsters are in use. A few days ago men disguised as officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police visited homes in order to frighten people and indispose them against us. That is only a beginning."

Premier Duplessis and Adélard Godbout, the Liberal leader, resumed their campaigns today. The government leader is scheduled to speak tonight at a rally at Sherbrooke, where Hon. J. S. Bourque, lands and forests minister, is seeking re-election.

Mr. Godbout, who made a whirlwind tour of the Lake St. John district Saturday and Sunday, spent yesterday in his home constituency of L'Islet, where he conferred with his organizers. This afternoon he addressed a meeting at St. Prosper in Dorchester County.

The action Libérale nationale chief, Paul Gouin, will inaugurate his Montreal campaign with a north-end rally tomorrow night. He has held only one public meeting so far, at L'Assomption, where he was invited to present himself as a candidate.

The Liberals and the Union Nationale are moving almost neck and neck in the selection of candidates in the 85 constituencies to be contested in the election. The Liberals have named 69 candidates and the government 70. Thirty-four A. L. N. colorbearers have been named so far. Besides an Independent Conservative, there is also a national candidate and a representative of the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation.

To Pay Reward If Wang Killed

SHANGHAI (AP) — The 28th anniversary of establishment of the Chinese republic was marked Tuesday by appearance of circulars purporting to offer 10,000 Chinese dollars for the killing of Wang Ching-wei, dissident former premier for the central government.

The circulars were signed "Central Research Statistics Bureau." Sums ranging from 200 to 10,000 Chinese dollars ($14.64 to $732) were listed for the killing of 24 others whom the handbills called "traitors."

The names included that of Madame Wang Ching-wei, once a member of the Kuomintang (government party) along with her husband.

Wang issued a statement Monday urging peace with Japan and overthrow of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, head of the central government, whom he called an "aspirant dictator."

The statement did not mention the all-China government under Japanese domination which Wang has been working on and his silence on this point was taken to indicate a hitch had developed.

Takes Big Oil Load

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — The German steamship Havilland, heavily laden with diesel engine oil, left the harbor at Puntas Arenas Sunday with Panama as her announced destination.

Because of her cargo—harbor men said it was an "excessive supply"—news of her departure caused great interest among Costa Ricans.

The Havilland had been in refuge since shortly after Britain and France declared war on Germany.

San Francisco Fair Draws 187,730 in Day

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Golden Gate Exposition attracted 187,730 visitors Sunday in a rush that broke all attendance records at Treasure Island and caused perhaps the biggest traffic jam in the history of the bay region.

The previous attendance record was 128,697, set the day the fair opened, last February 18.

Traffic congestion began at 9 a.m. on the eight and one-quarter mile San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge. By 2 p.m. the exposition's 16,000-car parking lot was filled, several thousand other cars were parked in other spots on the island, and 15,000 more machines were stalled on the bridge.

Hundreds of cars were held on the bridge for as long as three hours.

Quebec and the Future

A PART ALTOGETHER FROM THE most unfortunate and unwarranted attitude adopted at this juncture by Quebec's Premier Duplessis toward the Dominion Government in particular and the country as a whole, we are of the opinion that even though the administration of the ancient province be endorsed at the polls on October 25, neither Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, nor Hon. C. G. Power should feel called upon to resign from the ministry of Mr. Mackenzie King. All three are extremely able men, long associated with the Prime Minister, and the country cannot afford to lose their services, especially at a time like this.

Premier Duplessis, however, seems to have lost sight of some fundamentals in calling an election to air the principle of provincial rights, or what is more to the point, to use the question as a peg on which to hang an argument against conscription. Mr. Mackenzie King has stated specifically in the House of Commons that his government would not introduce a measure to provide for compulsory military service. In emphasis of this statement Minister of Justice Lapointe assured the House that if his friend of many years standing were to pursue such a policy, he and his Quebec colleagues would leave the cabinet. Under no pretense whatever, therefore, has Mr. Duplessis the least cause for apprehension on this vital and delicate point.

At this distance, nevertheless, it would seem that the head of Quebec's government is not taking a very long view of the situation. Mr. Lapointe is too experienced a political campaigner in the province which he knows and has served so well to have staked his public life on the outcome of this election unless he felt he could count upon the good judgment of his compatriots. Be that as it may, it evidently follows that the endorsement of the Duplessis government would mean the removal from the federal ministry of all the ancient province's representation, a consideration which surely will not be lost on the intelligent electorate whom the Union Nationale leader hopes to sway on October 25.

Supposing, for argument's sake, Messrs. Lapointe, Cardin, and Power, in the face of a Duplessis victory, were to resign and the Prime Minister felt compelled to call a general election, would it not follow that issues that would obtrude might automatically relieve him of the blanket promise he had made in regard to conscription—apart from its merits as a policy? This is not to suggest that Mr. King has any such thought in mind. But these are unusual times and, robbed of the co-operation of three able ministers, it would be his duty to replace them without delay, for he still would be charged with the gigantic task of piloting Canada through a war of uncertain duration. Under such circumstances it is not unlikely that the Prime Minister might find it difficult to justify his adherence to his promise.

Meanwhile Mr. Lapointe and his two colleagues should be quite equal to the job of reminding the electors of Quebec what really is at stake—and what are the dangers—in this election. It is for them to choose between the policy to which a trusted friend is committed and their Premier's own opportunism. And it ought to be remembered, too, that the Minister of Justice voted against conscription in 1917, and has not changed his attitude since. Nor does he yield second place to anyone in his staunch belief in and ardent support of provincial autonomy in all its ramified implications.

Shot and Shell—And Books

ALTHOUGH THE FIRST FEW MONTHS of the Great War brought a heavy slump to the book trade of the United Kingdom—hitting printers, papermakers and binderies fairly severely—by the beginning of 1915 the industry of writing, printing and publishing books again caught its stride and rattled merrily along. Now comes the news that the leading British publishers have decided to carry on. There is to be no serious shortage of potential "best sellers" just because the guns have begun to roar again.

This time, however, there is a somewhat different outlook. Conscription, evacuations, blackouts and all the other incidents of war have thrown the civilian populace into a state of topsy-turvydom not experienced in 1914. Men have neither the urge to write, nor the leisure to read; the poet has put aside his pen to attend to his gas mask, the novelist is turned pilot, the public library circulates A.R.P. pamphlets, and the generals and politicians are only beginning to collect the raw material for the next flood of memoirs and apologies.

In a word, the times are all against the makers of books; and the gallant decision of the publishing trade is all the more praiseworthy because of the odds. Out of evil there is hope for good. Of late years there has been a surfeit of books, middling books, bad books, and worse books, which could only be explained by the conceit of their writers and the good-heartedness of publishers. Now the hope goes out for a qualitative censorship in advance—that a book, whether it be poetry or prose, fact or fiction, may be severely tested by the critics before it is published rather than after.

Canada's Great Role

OF INTENSE SATISFACTION TO CANADA and the Canadian people will be the announcement by Sir Kingsley Wood, Secretary of State for Air, in the British House of Commons this afternoon that this country will be used as an advanced school for the training of pilots and airmen from all parts of the Empire. From the preliminary training schools already set up and in active operation in Britain, Australia, New Zealand—and, of course, in this Dominion—will be sent graduates to Canada for their final and highly-technical tuition on the most advanced practical lines. This is how Sir Kingsley described it:

"The undertaking is one of great magnitude. Its development will result in a very great and rapid increase in the number of training schools, already large, and achieve increased output of first-line pilots, observers and gunners which, combined with our home efforts, will ensure that the greatly increased requirements in trained personnel are fully met. The aim, in short, is to achieve by co-operative effort air forces of overwhelming strength."

It will be recalled that as soon as Great Britain had declared a state of war existed between her and Germany the question of Canada's role became one of immediate and far-reaching importance. Officials and public men in authority familiar with the fine records established by Canadian airmen in the Great War lost no time in casting this country for still greater service in the air in this struggle. From Sir Kingsley Wood's statement we now get an idea of what has gone on behind the scenes—while unintelligent criticism of the Dominion's apparent lack of policy has cropped up in some quarters in which it has been difficult to subdue the desire to make political capital.

The plan as outlined by the British Air Minister, moreover, not only is a tribute to Canada's efficient contribution to the flying forces in the Great War, but also the implied expression of confidence that the plans for advanced technical training in this country will insure that "air forces of overwhelming strength" will be available to assist the Allies in their battle with the system for which Adolf Hitler and his associates stand.

One Danger Remains

MOTORCARS ARE BEING BUILT safer and safer each year. Roads are better designed, so as to eliminate hazards.

Next year's automobiles will probably be mostly equipped with a new "sealed-beam" headlamp which will tend to eliminate road glare. This invention, which is expected to rank with four-wheel brakes, safety glass, and all-steel bodies as a safety feature, was developed jointly by the lamp and motor manufacturers who pooled their knowledge and experience to produce it. An excellent example of co-operation, by the way.

A new type of safety glass which eliminates side-window distortion and undue eyestrain is also to be introduced by one company, and new bodies partly made of transparent plastics are to be introduced.

Yes, automobiles are being made safer each year. The only safety factor that seems hardest of all to improve is the being behind the wheel. Even there some progress is being made by relentless safety campaigns and education, but more unyielding than glass or steel or plastic is the stubbornness of the human mind, slow to learn, slower to change and woe.

The difference is that what Hitler calls his peace offensive, others call an offensive peace.

Mussolini's part in this war seems to be giving a demonstration of a dictator sitting on a fence.

The trouble with being foreign minister of a Baltic state these days is that all this traveling back and forth to Moscow is liable to get one in a rut.

Berlin police have set women peeling potatoes for soldiers. Privates in the Canadian army assigned to mess house duties would probably favor formation of a female corps for such duties over here.

Test of Canadian Endurance

From Ottawa Citizen

It may be necessary to enlist a million Canadian men before the present war is over. The British nation is being organized for war to last three years. The British war effort is already as great in intensity, however, as the peak of effort in the last war. The whole power of the nation is being mobilized on a greater scale.

Through months of stress ahead, in this war of national existence, it will probably be found necessary to co-ordinate every industrial effort for the one purpose. This necessity will apply to Canada no less than to the other nations involved. Even though there may appear to be no need to organize the civilian population for such extensive precautions against air raids, or to safeguard the nation against famine, the necessity of making the most economical use of human resources in Canada may be brought home during the next few months.

The Canadian people may well feel glad to be living on this side of the Atlantic Ocean away from the war zone. It is something to be able to work during the day or to sleep during the night without being under the constant menace of enemy air raids. Canada is in the war, however, to the limit of Canadian resources.

Thoughts

My brethren have dealt deceitfully as a brook, and as the stream of brooks they pass away.—Job 6:15.

It is as easy to deceive one's self without perceiving it, as it is difficult to deceive others without their finding it out.—Rochefoucauld.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

LEON AND JOE

EVERYBODY should read Leon Trotsky's article in Life on that fascinating subject, Joe Stalin. I think it is the liveliest piece that has come out in print in a long time, for Leon knows how to swing his pen—and jab it into his subject.

He jabs it pretty deep into poor old Joe. He tells, with almost a drooling relish, how Joe keeps an automatic piano at the Kremlin and at his country mansion, for he cannot do without art. How Joe used to beat his eldest son for smoking cigarettes and then amused himself blowing pipe smoke into his baby's mouth. And how Joe could never stand up to criticism or argument but always slipped out of the meetings and hid in the kitchen, lying on a couch, smoking his pipe.

The Joe that emerges from Leon's portrait is not the beautiful, simple child of nature that we have always imagined, nor the clever, bold conspirator that he has seemed to be lately. Instead he turns out to be a pretty dull fellow, but with a fierce will, an exquisite lack of any human pity, and an inferiority complex, bred out of his poverty-stricken youth, which drives him on to revenge against society as a whole. And Joe doesn't trust the people for a moment. He is just out for Joe.

Of course, Leon is not what you would call an unprejudiced witness. Stalin exiled him, ruined him, reduced him from the second man in Russia, the lieutenant of Lenin, to an outcast in Mexico City. The Stalinists about here, the faithful, will never believe Leon. They always said he was a wreck, that he was no true Marxist, that he was trying to undermine Joe's work for the common man—good old Joe, the true believer, the steel wall against Fascism in Europe.

Now it is Leon's turn to laugh as Joe climbs into bed with Hitler. His laugh from Mexico City is a little chilly, but not without humor. I think you could get along with Leon. I think you could drink beer with him, perhaps even go fishing with him, but who would trust himself in a boat with Joe? As between Joe and Leon, I'll take Leon. But I hope he stays in Mexico.

POLITICS

SPEAKING OF these politics, our own are not doing so badly as you would expect. Of course, in this country we always expect the worst of our politicians and often we are not disappointed; but candor compels you to admit that since the war started they have behaved remarkably well.

The sudden transition of the pedestrian, patient, rather tired King government into a driving government is the most remarkable development in recent times here. One would not have believed it possible. The war only a month old and we have had the whole financial and economic machinery of the country changed, war profits largely taxed out of existence, provincial governments virtually taken over. Up to now, our showing as a nation has been very good. Quebec, or rather Duplessis, remains the only dark spot.

THOROUGHBREDS

ACCORDING to the Vancouver Sun, there is throughout America a fear among dog lovers of a wartime prejudice against the innocent Dachshund. The Dachshund owners are asking the newspapers to point out that these little animals have become naturalized Canadians and are completely loyal. Like the ladies, they can't help their shape. Unlike them, they can't disguise it.

There is a Dachshund out here, and you never saw a more imperial-minded little dog. He doesn't know a word of German but he understands English perfectly. If you have any cookies or a bone for him. Yet I dare say the Scottish terrier next door, and the wire-haired across the road, will begin to look down on him as the war goes on.

What we should remember is that the Dachshund comes from the same place we come from. We all come, through the Saxon invasion of Britain, from a common German home somewhere in eastern Europe. The trouble is that we and the Germans have changed our appearance, but the Dachshund, being a thoroughbred, hasn't.

That is the difference between him and us.

BUSTED BUSTLE

THE SUN ALSO HAS a piece from New York quoting a famous Paris dressmaker on the inward meaning of the bustle. The bustle is not, as you imagine, a mere empty gesture, a padding where it is least required. On the contrary, it represents a great idea. Women, says the famous expert, have tried to prevent the war by rousing men's protective instincts, and to rouse them they have assumed feminine dress of the most enticing sort.

The bustle was the crowning weapon. The bustle was supposed to represent a final peace offensive, a kind of Blitzkrieg against the threat of war.

Alas, it failed. Men's protective instincts were not aroused by the bustle. The Sun thinks maybe we had better go back to the League of Nations after all. I doubt that it is much use—much use, I mean, to hope for any human progress when the better half of the race is going back to wasp waists and whalebone corsets. Men like Joe and Adolf thrive on the whalebone intelligence of the world. You can never have collective security in an age of flimsy bustles; nor individual security either, the girls tell me.

THE FAIR WAY

They sliced their drives into the rough, and went in search of the balls. They searched for a long time without success.

Finally, an elderly woman spoke to them. "I don't want to bother you gentlemen," she said quietly, "but would it be cheating if I told you where they are?"

"Does Last Longer"

HITLER 16 YEARS AGO

From Brockville Recorder and Times

Commenting upon Hitler's speech to the Reichstag in which he dramatically declared that "I again put on the uniform which once was most sacred and dearest to me" and "I will take it off only after victory," a writer in the New York Post recalls that Hitler uttered almost identical sentiments 16 years ago when he urged a group of party associates to join him in the famous Beerhaus putsch.

"You must fight with me," he cried at that time. "You must win with me or die with me. If this goes wrong, there are four bullets in my pistol—three for my associates if they desert me, the last for myself." And, speaking, he held his revolver to his head. The putsch was carried out and failed. Ludendorff, who had been tricked into the affair, walked calmly through the crowds into the hands of the police.

Adolf Hitler threw himself to the ground when the first shot was fired. In falling he bruised his arm, but that did not keep him from running. He found his car and drove it to the home of his friend Hanfstaengl (Pitzl), thence to Efting, in the mountains, where he hid until the police discovered him.

Rudolph Olden tells this story in his famous Hitler biography. Is it prophetic?

Missing Peace Links

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

WAR AIM WEAKNESSES

IT SEEMS TO ME that the British Empire must sooner or later face up to a very grave weakness in the war aims as stated by the Prime Minister. In a word, these aims are not only to stop Hitler but to end Hitlerism. It may be evident to most thoughtful people that Hitler can be stopped, if only the British and French peoples continue grimly on and refuse to be taken in by Nazi trick peace pleas. But it must also be evident to all those capable of reviewing the lessons of the past 25 years that to achieve the overthrow of Hitler means little if the conditions remain which created the menace of Kaiserism in 1914 and Hitlerism today.

It is the height of absurdity to imagine that the British and French could or would go on fighting the Germans every 25 years. So our part of the world is faced with a double task. We cannot lose this war, or fail for any slick Nazi peace trick without putting ourselves in a much more dangerous military position almost overnight. But we cannot win the war in any true sense unless world conditions are so changed thereafter that we do not go on chasing an impossible peace around a hopeless circle.

be at least as important as the beating of Hitler.

It seems to me that the British Empire and France will have to face these facts. Instead of trying to re-establish the old sort of precarious peace throughout all the world they should concentrate on making peace unsalable in those portions of the world which they clearly have a chance to defend against every possible threat.

Which brings us to the other missing link. For if it is true that the missing link in our war program is the knowledge that we may not be able to prevent the rise of more Kaisers and more Hitlers, even if we send Adolf to keep Wilhelm company at Dorn, it is also true that we can never begin effectively to organize peace on the only basis possible until the United States assumes the responsibilities, if not of leadership, then certainly of co-operation.

The United States certainly has the right to stay out of this war if it can. But the United States has no right to stay out of the fight to organize peace.

BRITAIN TAKES IT

From Vancouver Sun

The story of the blackout in Britain cannot fail to stir every Canadian heart. All Britain is dark these nights from the south coast to the tip of Scotland. . . . The whole family life of Britain has been changed. People can't go out at night. They stay home and read or play the old-fashioned games of 50 years ago. There is a boom in chess and checkers and the classics are being reread. Everywhere a quiet acceptance of war, nowhere complaints.

Here is the great basic strength of the British people—not in their brilliance or dash, not in their genius for organization, their well-known valor in action. Their basic strength is the strength of the family, sitting at home with the blinds drawn, cheerful, uncomplaining. It is a spirit not bred in a generation or two. It comes down from 2,000 years of living together on that little island. It comes from countless wars and invasions, victories and defeats—experiences shared by all the inhabitants until, when danger appears, they are all one family, sitting together on their darkened island after the day's work, unconquerable.

For us here, when we are tempted to complain and criticize, it is good to think of the British people, untroubled, calm, cheerful in the darkness of the blackout.

A German inventor has devised a way of making shoe soles "incredibly durable" with a renewable coating mixed with sand or other granular material.

DON'T LOSE YOUR VOTE

To the Editor:—May I remind citizens not owning property, but paying road and poll tax, that it will be necessary personally to call at the city clerk's office, City Hall, before the end of October in order to have their names placed on the civic voters' list. Present receipts for the tax and avoid delay.

We should need no more gruesome reminder than the daily war news to be convinced, if such is necessary, that our system of voting representatives into public office is a privilege to be appreciated. "Lest we forget" make use of our hard-fought-for democratic way of balloting. Register before October 30 and have no regrets.

ALICE MCGREGOR, 1190 Camrose Crescent.

What one community may excel in another could not handle at all. One or two questions, clearly and directly answered will be of more help to the national committee in charge of tabulating the registrations, than the haphazard filling in of the whole form.

75,000 Institute Women Pledged To Service

Federated Convention Suggests Ways
To Give Assistance

EDMONTON (CP)—Co-operation and assistance of the 75,000 members of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada in any war service was offered here yesterday at the opening session of the four-day biennial convention.

Delegates voted to send resolutions to Prime Ministers Mackenzie King of Canada and Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain offering to serve now, when and where they are directed by those in authority.

Sessions of the Alberta women's institutes to be held in conjunction with the national convention began today.

FRIENDLY WITH ENEMY WOMEN

Mrs. Alfred Watt, O.B.E. of London, England, president of the associated women of the world, said her organization had made an effort to prevent the outbreak of war and its determination to remain friendly with women of enemy countries "no matter what happens."

"Good comes out of evil and the doors may be opened for wider services of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada," added Mrs. Watt, former resident of Victoria.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bailey Price of Vancouver, director of publicity, told the 20-odd delegates how they could contribute to the Canadian war effort.

HOARDING A CRIME

Mrs. E. C. Duce of Dundurn, Sask., convener of the agriculture committee, in her report stressed necessity of Canadian housewives helping increase and conserve food supplies during the war. She said members should "consider hoarding a crime."

Commenting on Mrs. Duce's remarks, Mrs. Watt suggested co-operative buying and selling would be a useful measure to assist food conservation. "The W.I. would be well advised to study co-operative movements in Denmark and New Zealand," she added.

APPLE JUICE

Mrs. Watt suggested making apple juice the national drink to use the apple surplus caused by hostilities. She stated the institutes might study nutrition and food substitutes as important war problems.

Mrs. J. P. Ferguson of Trochu, Alta., recording secretary, reported there were 3,335 branches of the Women's Institutes in Canada with a membership of 74,500. Alberta has 229 groups with a membership of 3,300.

CHILDREN'S Frequent COLDS

For relieving discomforts of chest colds and night coughs, rub VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. VapoRub's soothing vapor action relieves congestion of upper air passages—eases soreness of chest and back muscles—helps the youngster relax into healing sleep.

For coughing and irritated throat caused by colds, put VapoRub on the child's tongue to relieve the irritation. Then massage VapoRub on throat and chest.

For "sniffles" and misery of head colds, melt VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water. Have the child breathe in the steamy vapors. This loosens phlegm, clears air passages, makes breathing easier. Also massage VapoRub on throat and chest. Millions of families use these three time-tested treatments.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Princess Charlotte private suite at the Empress Hotel, Mrs. Hugh G. Moncrieff receiving, assisted by Mrs. H. E. Sellers. The rooms were banked with bronze chrysanthemums, and white chrysanthemums and maidenhair fern were arranged on the refreshment buffet, with the bride's cake at one end.

Mrs. Moncrieff wore a becoming dress of black wool crepe, the coat being piped with braid. Her black felt model hat was ornamented with a pink feather mount, the wings shading to a deep tone, and her corsage bouquet was of gardenias. Mrs. Sellers, mother of the groom, wore a gown of delphinium blue crepe with a matching velvet turban made with a crown of velvet flowers. Her fur cape awoke of silver fox, and her corsage bouquet of mauve orchids. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. F. E. Winslow.

Later Surgeon-Lieutenant and Mrs. Sellers left for a brief honeymoon, the bride donning a fingertip coat of blue fox, and on their return will make their home at the Wiltshire Apartments, Harrison Street, Victoria.

The game was followed by the serving of dainty refreshments. Prizewinners were the Misses Vera Hodgson and Sue Good. Those present included Mrs. R. R. Huot, and the Misses Theresa Wragg, Sheila Baines, Mary Edge, Edith Hodgson, Sue Good, Vera Hodgson and Phyllis Biles. October 19 will be the next meeting to be held at the home of Miss Edge, Alder Street.

The christening took place at Sunday noon, October 8, at St. John's Church, Rev. G. R. V. Bolster officiating, of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Craigmye, 3160 Qu'Appelle Street, the baby receiving the names of Grant Robert. The godparents were Miss Mary Allan, Mr. Joseph Crosby, uncle, and Mr. Wm. Craigmye, great-uncle. Following the service a large number of friends attended the reception held at the home of the child's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hurst, 1018 Bay Street. The reception rooms were a galaxy of flowers and the luncheon table most attractively decorated in baby blue and white, and centred with a handsome christening cake.

Mrs. J. S. Haskell, the former Miss Dorothy McMicking, held her post-nuptial reception Saturday afternoon in the Elizabethan room at the Empress Hotel, which, for the occasion, was artistically arranged with flowers and potted plants. The bride, who wore a smart frock of black crepe with a corsage of white gardenias and a black model hat with scarlet trim, was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. W. B. McMicking, and by Mrs. S. J. Haskell and Miss Marjorie Haskell, mother and sister, respectively, of the bridegroom. Mrs. E. Manning and Miss Adrienne Mellor presided at the tea table, which was centred with the bride's cake and decorated with bronze chrysanthemums. Miss Margaret Stewart and Miss Elsie Friend assisted in serving.

Hundreds of Young Canadians Initiated Into Mysteries of Tanks and Airplanes

LEARNING VARIOUS PHASES OF TANK FIGHTING—Staff members of the Canadian Armored Fighting Vehicles School are having busy days at Camp Borden as they initiate recruits to the fine points of tank fighting. The recruits are not being given their lessons in a lecture room, but on the field where 16 tanks, recently delivered from England, are put through wartime manoeuvres. Two of these tanks are shown in action, above, while a recruit practices using a machine gun, upper left, under similar conditions he will find when firing from the inside of one of these armored monsters, each of which weighs more than six tons. Not only are the recruits being taught how to wage an offensive with their armored vehicles, but they are also being taught how to combat enemy tanks with a new type anti-tank rifle, lower right.

FUTURE GROUND MEN FOR R.C.A.F. START TRAINING—When Hon. Norman O. Hipel and Hon. L. J. Simpson, Ministers of Labor and Education in the Ontario government, officially opened the new Galt Aircraft School they found an abandoned foundry transformed into a hive of industry. Six months from now, 200 efficient young mechanics will graduate from the training course and take their places as ground men in the R.C.A.F., while another group starts training. The school was originated under the Dominion-provincial youth training plan before the war started. Pictures show Mr. Hipel, left, talking things over with Doug McEwen, in the cockpit of a plane used for construction demonstrating. At right, a group of students inspects tail assembly.

GERMAN POSTCARD SAYS PRISONER SAFE—From a German prison camp has come a "form postcard" to tell the father of Flying Officer A. B. Thompson of the R.A.F., who lives in Penetanguishene, that his son has been interned there. The English translation of the message on the reverse of the card, with parts scored out in brackets, reads: "I am healthy (slightly wounded) as a German prisoner of war and am in good hands. (I will be taken) from here (to another place) in the next few days (the address of which) I will write to you. (I will be allowed to receive mail from you there and will be able to write to you.) Best wishes..."

TO 'MOTHER' CANADIANS—Jenny Morris, "mother of the Princess Pats" in the first Great War, is ready to look after the boys again this time—the entire Canadian expeditionary force if necessary. She is preparing to sell her lovely home at Stanmore, Middlesex, in order to be able to rent a building in London as a retreat for the Dominion's war riors.

GERMAN ACE VOLUNTEERS—John Rzepka, Polish-born Winnipeg barber, who was in Baron Manfred von Richthofen's "flying circus" in the last war, has offered his services in any capacity to the Royal Canadian Air Force.

PROMOTED FOR CONQUEST—Promoted by Adolf Hitler in recognition of their leadership in the conquest of Poland, General Walter von Reichenau, left, and Guenther von Kluge assume title of colonel-general, second highest in the German military hierarchy.

'SHIRTSLEEVES' DIPLOMACY—Anthony Drexel Biddle, wealthy young sportsman and diplomat, was in Warsaw as United States ambassador when the Hun struck. Mr. Biddle and other diplomats had great difficulty in getting out, and in Paris Mr. Biddle was extremely outspoken in his condemnation of Nazi tactics in bombing and machine-gunning civilians and undefended areas. He is here seen in an undershirt discussing his difficult trip to safety with the British ambassador, Sir Howard Kennard, at left, at a roadside stop in Poland.

NO TIME LIMIT ON PARKING HERE—An ironic note is struck by the "Park Here" sign. It stands outside Cowasjee Jehungir Hall in Bombay, where a part of the Germans who were in India when the war began are now interned. The balconies are lined with involuntary guests of the government of India, obediently "parked," while part of the heavy police guard patrols the street before the hall.

Designed to learn to what extent Canadian women could assist in time of a national emergency war or peace, the Voluntary Registration of Canadian Women has opened its survey campaign. Scenes like the above in a Toronto department store are taking place throughout Canada. The Victoria central committee office, in charge of Mrs. A. R. Longley, 1218 Government Street, Empire 2631, opens today for information regarding registration. Actual work on the voluntary census of Victoria's women power does not start until October 16.

MAKES BID FOR PEACE—"Neither force of arms nor time will conquer Germany," Adolf Hitler, fresh from watching the formal occupation of Warsaw, reports to the German Reichstag on the Polish conquest and lays down his terms of "peace" with the Allies.

TRIMMED—BUT NO CASUALTIES—When soldiers get "trimmed" it isn't usually as painlessly as this. These French poilus are getting clipped, literally, in an open-air barber shop on the way to the French front, and the operation is painless as this official French photograph shows.

Revellers Drop Third Straight

Sports Mirror

NINE YEARS AGO the English rugby boys, who like to think they can take the bumps, left him, white and inert, in a hospital cot. They talked in whispers outside the door. "Too bad. He'll never walk again."

Henry Cockin, J.B.A.A. scrum half, a bundle of concentrated dynamite on the field, lay with his neck broken.

Last week the "boy who would walk no more" outsped virtually every man on the floor in the Alerts-Bays city boxla championship. And lacrosse is not exactly a sissy's game.

He smiles when you recall the predictions made for him following his rugby accident. But there's a touch of pathos in that smile, too.

Except for a couple of exhibition fixtures, lacrosse is finished in the city for the season.

Bays deserved their championship, in the opinion of Harry Sargison, manager of Alerts. "They're a pair of pretty evenly-matched teams, but I guess the best won," he conceded following Friday's final.

His present activity in the game promises to bring him a new nickname. When they speak of the "Whisperer", look for Sargison. His vocal chords were strained to the limit during the series. At the start of the last game he exhorted his playing staff with a weird, harsh croak, like that of a distressed frog. It must have been intelligible because his boys did right well while Harry's voice held up. When it fell to a tortured murmur in the third period, the team faded with it. The Alerts blame Art McKim, rival goalie, for their defeat. A lot of the spectators attribute the result to Sargison's failing larynx.

You may go anywhere, but there's none to compare with Bob McElmies when he has a team in action. As a rugby coach Bob has probably covered more mileage in muttering promenade up and down the sidelines than any of his star performers. As a lacrosse mentor he may be the man to start a boom in the hat industry. Bob does things to his hat as he sits on the bench. Enthusiasm will never die in the man who has contributed so largely to Victoria sport through his interest in younger teams.

Frankie Kovacs, that bewildering and erratic youngster who came up from California to play at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club courts about three years ago, has knocked over Adrian Quist, Australia's topflight tennis pro. Frankie did it the easy way, 6-2, 6-0, in Berkeley's Pacific Coast championship play.

That means just one thing—Kovacs is capable of tremendous achievement. But, to those who saw him play as a youngster here, it does not mean that Frankie will be the man to replace Bobby Riggs.

Among juniors there never has been a player as eccentric as Kovacs on the Victoria courts. His service was a rifle shot. Sometimes it went in. Long, lean and wiry, the Californian declared him the future successor to Bill Tilden. He now has sixth ranking in the U.S. Unless his

Victoria Revellers tasted their third bitter defeat of the "Big Four" Canadian football season yesterday at Macdonald Park, when Vancouver North Shore Lions trampled them into the turf, 29 to 6, before nearly 1,300 holiday spectators.

The Revellers were snowed under 19 to 0 by the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds at Vancouver Saturday. They lost their first game here a week ago Saturday with Vancouver Knights of Columbus, 18 to 0.

The two games in three days, coupled with their lack of experience, caused Victoria's downfall. The Lions were a much fresher team when they went on the field. They did not play Saturday.

With reference to Saturday's game with Varsity, Coach George Deacon of the Revellers said that his team met up with difficulties throughout play that only experience would solve.

VICTORIA SCORES FIRST

The locals opened scoring in the first four minutes of play in yesterday's battle. A 20-yard end run by Brent Murdoch on their second down put the Revellers on Vancouver's 25-yard line. Jack Grogan kicked a placement for one point.

The mainlanders went to work and with eight minutes gone in the quarter, Smith carried the ball for a 20-yard gain for a first down on the Victoria one-yard line. Bullock plunged through the line for a touch and Lucking kicked the extra point to make the score 6 to 1.

The Lions boosted their lead to 12 to 1 after three minutes of play in the second period. An aerial barrage with Bullock delivering and Smith and Lucking receiving put Vancouver on Victoria's five-yard line. Smith carried the ball on a right-end run for a touchdown. He made the extra point on a pass from Bullock.

LOCALS SCORE

With five and a half minutes to play in the half, Victoria had advanced to the visitors' 21-yard line on running and kicking plays. The Revellers made their one and only touchdown of the game from this point when Hank Rowe received a neat forward pass from Doug Lawford, and crossed the line. Victoria failed to convert. The score stood at 12 to 6.

The touch for Victoria put new spirit into the team as the second half opened. Both squads were fighting tooth and nail out the locals failed to hold. Vancouver scored on a deadline kick with a few minutes gone, to make it 13 to 6.

NO HOLDING LIONS

There was no holding the Lions from this point on. They worked the ball to Victoria's four-yard line on spinner and end run plays and Bullock cracked through the line for their third touchdown. There was no conversion. The score was 18 to 6. Seven minutes left in the quarter provided no further scoring.

Five minutes had gone in the final quarter when Smith intercepted a forward pass from Iawford to Barber and ran 40 yards for the Lions' fourth touchdown. They failed to add the extra point and the score read, 23 to 6.

A series of line plunges by Mondin put Vancouver on Victoria's 12-yard line. His blockers opened a hole in the Revellers' line and he plied through for the final touchdown making the score 28 to 6. Lucking heaved a pass to Smith for the extra point and the final score of 29 to 6.

The officials for the game were

CANADIAN FOOTBALL ACTION YESTERDAY—The Times cameraman was on hand to catch this action shot in yesterday's "Big Four" Canadian football league game at Macdonald Park when Victoria Revellers were downed 29 to 6 by Vancouver North Shore Lions. The action shows one of Victoria's most successful running plays in progress—a delayed spinner with Bill Gornall carrying the ball. Gornall is in the centre background, while in the foreground the Revellers' interference goes to work on the Vancouver line.

Intercity Soccer

Locals Badly Beaten

Hopelessly outclassed throughout the whole 90 minutes of play, Victoria Rep footballers were handed a crushing 7 to 1 defeat here yesterday afternoon at Athletic Park by a smart Vancouver North Shore machine in a Pacific Coast Football League battle. The visitors were former Canadian champions.

Anticipating a keen struggle after learning of the way the locals held the present Dominion champion Radials to a 1 to 1 draw on the mainland on Saturday, 1,200 fans—1,050 of them cash customers—turned out at the enclosure to watch the scrap. But they were badly disappointed.

The visitors, working like a well-oiled engine in every department, practically ran circles around the Capital City blue-shirts and had little difficulty in piling up their formidable score. They dominated play almost completely throughout the hour and a half session.

This was Victoria's first defeat in three starts in intercity competition. In their first engagement here a week ago last Saturday the locals posted a 4 to 2 win over St. Saviours and on Saturday came out of a battle, said by mainland officials to be the best Victoria-Vancouver match witnessed in the Terminal City in many years, with a draw decision with Radials.

VICTORIA TRIED

The fact yesterday's game was Victoria's second in three days probably had something to do with their poor exhibition. North Shore did not see action Saturday. The visitors sagged the help for three counts in the first half and added the rest in the final half. Tony Hope, centre forward, who was taken out of the game one-third the way through the first half, saved Victoria from a complete shellacking when he took Ralph Crozier's pass just before he was let out and scored from close range.

North Shore's game featured clever, short passing by the front line, which tricked its way past the Victoria defence time and again. Although they got seven markers they missed plenty more by the margin of goalie Bobby Moss' chin whiskers. The Shores were up on the ball all afternoon and checked the Victoria players at their every move. When Victoria did get on the attack, which wasn't very frequently, they found the Shore defence about as solid as a rock wall. Few of their shots got past the defence for goalie Jack Rabbitt to deal with.

BEST AVAILABLE

The local team was probably the strongest fielded this season. Alan Reside and Gordy Bell, left half and right wing, respectively, were in uniform for the first time for this match. Bell was not effective, however, because he was starved.

North Shore broke into the score column as early as the first minute of play when inside right Don Matheson speared the camp. They made it 2 to 0 on clever Jimmy Spencer's goal later. At the 14-minute mark Hope's goal came, but before the half arrived Malcolm McManus, Shores' centre forward, made it 3 to 1. In closing half play McManus made it 4 to 1 after 10 minutes on a pass from Norman McLeod, left wing, whose performance was outstanding.

Vancouver score rose another notch when Spencer's shot deflected off Glen Robbins' head and Jimmy Lowe, outside right, completed the score by adding two tallies in the late stages of the game.

Tom Robb, Victoria, refereed.

Teams follow:

North Shore—Rabbitt, Hall, Cummings, Newbold, Harvey, Goodheart, Lowe, Matheson, McManus, Spencer, McLeod.

Victoria—Moss, B. Bell, Wilkinson, G. Robbins, R. Barnes, Reside, G. Bell, Cosier, Hope, Morgan, Dellimore.

ST. ANDREWS WIN

VANCOUVER (CP)—St. Andrews' soccer squad handed their home-town rivals, St. Saviours, a 4 to 2 defeat in a Pacific Coast League Thanksgiving Day game here yesterday.

St. Andrews had a slight edge in play throughout, but managed to net only once in the first half. George Johnstone, centre-forward, took advantage of a bad kick by Jackie Jones, a St. Saviour back, and shoved the ball into the net.

Alex Christie, George Lang and Billy Hyslop scored the other St. Andrews' goals while Dave Brown and Bobby Byford tallied for St. Saviours.

PAN AMERICAN GAMES MOOTED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Civic leaders suggested today a Pan-American sports meet in Philadelphia next year as a substitute for the 1940 Olympics, scheduled to be held in Finland, but which may be canceled because of war. Lawson Robertson, coach of the United States Olympic track and field teams, termed the suggested meet "a nice idea," but added: "I don't think it will work." "Canada couldn't be in," he said.

NEGATIVE RECORDS

CINCINNATI, O. (AP)—In many ways this World Series was one of the nothingest in history.

Records set or equalled were virtually all negative.

The New York Yankees made records by not using a single pinch-hitter and by committing only two errors.

In the entire series there were only 15 bases on balls, compared with the previous record of 17 for a four-game series set in the 1927 and 1937 classics.

There was just one base stolen in the series, bettering the earlier low of two in the 1927 and 1932 series.

The two defeats charged against Bucky Walters equalled another mark as did the performances of Wally Berger and Lonnie Frey in playing throughout the series without a hit.

Start Ping-pong Schedule Tonight

Wartime Day Of Thanksgiving

By the Canadian Press
Canada celebrated a wartime Thanksgiving Day yesterday, first since 1918. Prayers for peace were offered, but there was cause for thankfulness, too.

Farmers in most districts could be thankful for bountiful crops and prospect of increased prices. Church services were held by all denominations, while some Anglican churches celebrated Holy Communion.

The day was a holiday for the 60,000 recruits in Canada's expanding army, but the matter of leaves was left with commanding officers. At Toronto, for instance, "turkey day" meant shorter periods of drill than usual in the morning and the afternoon free.

Like most other Canadians, the enlisted men were able to enjoy an outdoor holiday as the weather was generally fair. Football games attracted thousands, while race cards and baseball games drew their quota of fans and golf links were popular.

Highway traffic was heavy, but accidents comparatively few. The number of persons who entered the United States was the lowest in years due to the high exchange rate on Canadian funds.

Showers put a damper on the day in some parts of Ontario and the Maritimes.

Eight violent deaths were recorded in Ontario during the week-end. Three deaths resulted from automobile accidents, an engineer was killed in a train collision, a man died from burns suffered in a gasoline explosion and the other fatalities were drownings.

DEATHS IN B.C.

Six persons met violent death in widely separated parts of British Columbia over the week-end. A mother and daughter drowned and a five-year-old child was fatally injured in automobile accidents in the West Kootenay; two men died while hunting, and a logger was killed at a Vancouver Island camp.

Mrs. John McKinnon and her daughter, Josephine, 24, drowned Saturday night when their automobile, in which they were waiting aboard a Columbia River ferry near Trail, was struck in the rear by a second machine and plunged over the end apron into 30 feet of water. The bodies were recovered.

Rev. J. L. W. McLean of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church left yesterday morning for Nanaimo where he was the speaker at the afternoon session of the week-end young people's rally held in the Presbyterian Church in that city. Mr. McLean will go from Nanaimo to Vancouver to attend the sessions of the 49th Synod of British Columbia of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, which opens this evening in Central Church.

G. J. Richardson, secretary of the International Association of Fire-Fighters, Washington, D.C., is at the Empress Hotel today with Mrs. Richardson.

He addressed the fire chiefs' convention in San Francisco, September 18 to 23, and is returning to the Golden Gate Assembly of the United States and Canada.

"I am taking this opportunity of renewing acquaintance with Fire Chief Alex Munroe, whom I met in San Francisco," said Mr. Richardson.

He has been interviewing fire chiefs all along the Pacific coast. The International Association of Fire-Fighters, Mr. Richardson states, has 600 branches throughout the United States and Canada.

Three Hurt In Week-end Crashes

Two men and an 11-year-old girl suffered injuries which required hospital treatment in holiday accidents reported during the week-end to city and Saanich police.

The two men were: Clarence Hill, 1325 Johnson Street and Chamber D. Smith, 1607 Rebecca Street, whom a city police report said were knocked down last night by a car at Yates and Cook Streets. The car was driven by James Asselstine, 931 Gillespie Place, who was driving with five companions.

Both men were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital by passing motorists. Hill was reported suffered a fractured leg and other bruises while Smith received a bad cut on the head and a bruised forehead.

Joyce Elliott, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Elliott, Rutledge Street, suffered a fractured knee and a cut on the back of her head when knocked down by a car Sunday noon while riding her bicycle on Cloverdale Avenue.

Saanich Police said the car was driven by S. L. Gurney, Quadra Street. The girl was removed to the Jubilee Hospital where Dr. Russell Robertson attended.

Cars driven by Miss Marian Foreman, 194 Gorge Road, and W. A. Blake, 849 Princess Avenue, were considerably damaged in a collision last evening at Douglas Street and Queens Avenue, a city police report said. There were no serious personal injuries.

Property damage was all that resulted when cars driven by Samuel Avery, 188 Bushby Street and W. T. Mainwaring, 748 1/2 Fort Street, collided at Fairfield Road and Dallas Road yesterday morning shortly before 9, a city police report said.

City police reported H. S. Rounding, 344 Richmond Road, and Brynmor Gwynne, 1632 Hollywood Crescent, were the drivers of cars which sideswiped Saturday evening on Fairfield Road, between Stannard Avenue and St. Charles Street. Both cars were damaged.

Symphony Scores Brilliant Success

By G.J.D.

It is many seasons since Victoria has had a visit from Vancouver's Symphony Orchestra.

Yesterday it came to us under specially notable conditions; with two soloists, Mme. Gertrude Huntly Green, Canada's foremost pianist, and Jean de Rimanoczy, brilliant violinist, and concert master of the orchestra, and Sir Ernest MacMillan, Toronto's distinguished musician, as guest conductor in the place of A. de Ridder, the orchestra's permanent director. The Royal Victoria Theatre was crowded with a most enthusiastic and critical audience, the orchestra was impressive in its improved standards, and the occasion marked four local "first" performances: A. C. Mackenzie's "Britannia" Overture, the Mozart Piano Concerto, Brahms' No. 1 Symphony, and Enesco's "Rumanian Rhapsody." Altogether it was an event that may be put down as one of the memorable concerts in the annals of orchestral performances in this community.

The fire, which Fire Chief Ed. Clayards believed due to spontaneous combustion, broke out shortly after 4 this morning and was discovered by Constable Harry

Oak Bay firemen were powerless to save the property as the intense heat of the flames restricted their efforts. A nearby barn of similar size to the one destroyed was saved. Flames leaped 100 feet in the air when the blaze was at its height.

The fire, which Fire Chief Ed. Clayards believed due to spontaneous combustion, broke out shortly after 4 this morning and was discovered by Constable Harry

It was a foregone conclusion that Mrs. Green would once more be greeted with open arms. With her it seems no other pianist conveys their talents and style, delicacy and deftness of touch, as she. She selected one of the 15 Viennese piano concertos, the E flat, appropriately enough, as the public in these days cannot apparently hear too much Mozart. She invested the entrancing music with true Mozartian varieties of tonality and instrumental contrasts, Sir Ernest and his forces doing their part admirably.

Mrs. Green was brought back time after time, and played two extra numbers, including a Liszt arrangement of a Chopin waltz.

Jean de Rimanoczy is a brilliant violinist and evidently has honed his way to the hearts of a Victoria audience, for he met with complete success, and must have felt much gratified in the enthusiastic reception he received. His technique is unerring, his tone broad and singing and he showed the hand of a master in a scintillating performance of the familiar "Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso" by the French composer Saint Saens. He was recalled many times. In the two solos the orchestra gave inspiring and tenacious support and with Sir Ernest shared in the honors.

ORCHESTRA NUMBERS

The program began with Mackenzie's overture "Britannia," with the theme of "Rule Britannia," being skillfully interwoven in the different sections of the orchestra, in which the spirited playing, under the alert and authoritative baton of Sir Ernest MacMillan, was a happy augury of all that followed. The "Fantasia for Strings," on a theme by Tallis, by Vaughan Williams, with its short solos for violin, viola (the tone of the viola playing was especially appealing) and the octette as continuo is a beautiful bit of writing for strings only, and proved one of the most delightful of the evening. It somewhat surprised that conductor MacMillan seemed a trifle over energetic in its delightful presentation.

BRAMHMS

Sir Ernest was at his best in two movements from Brahms' Symphony No. 1 in A minor (opus 68), the broad sustained introduction that leads straight into the magnificent energy of the big allegro, and the last movement, Adagio, Piu andante, Allegro, in which are the striking horn call (skillfully played by the first horn player), the great major tune with the simplicity of a folk tune, all ending in a spirit of exalted happiness. Here the conductor knows what he wants and as a rule gets it. He produced playing beyond the usual, and can be relied upon to obtain the very best from his forces. In these respects also he thoroughly educated in the concluding "Rumanian Rhapsody" by the Rumanian violinist-conductor George Enesco, in which Sir Ernest seemed to revel in and certainly built up a tremendously overwhelming climax. Tumultuous applause followed, Sir Ernest being brought back to the stage time and time. The concert was one of congratulation to Vancouver's orchestra, and the net proceeds were donated to the local Red Cross, through arrangements made by Brian Burden Murphy.

Victoria's fall Assizes, which opened shortly after 11 this morning, were adjourned within a few minutes when an accused failed to appear to face a charge of committing an indecent act in Saanich on August 2 last. The case was the only one listed. The jury called for the trial was dismissed and witnesses released.

Spectacular Blaze Destroys Barn

A $1,200 barn and 80 tons of hay valued at $1,600 were totally destroyed in a spectacular early morning fire on the farm of James Turner, Cedar Hill Cross Road.

Oak Bay firemen were powerless to save the property as the intense heat of the flames restricted their efforts. A nearby barn of similar size to the one destroyed was saved. Flames leaped 100 feet in the air when the blaze was at its height.

It somewhat surprised that conductor MacMillan seemed a trifle over energetic in its delightful presentation.

BRAMHMS

Sir Ernest was at his best in two movements from Brahms' Symphony No. 1 in A minor (opus 68), the broad sustained introduction that leads straight into the magnificent energy of the big allegro, and the last movement, Adagio, Piu andante, Allegro, in which are the striking horn call (skillfully played by the first horn player), the great major tune with the simplicity of a folk tune, all ending in a spirit of exalted happiness. Here the conductor knows what he wants and as a rule gets it. He produced playing beyond the usual, and can be relied upon to obtain the very best from his forces. In these respects also he thoroughly educated in the concluding "Rumanian Rhapsody" by the Rumanian violinist-conductor George Enesco, in which Sir Ernest seemed to revel in and certainly built up a tremendously overwhelming climax. Tumultuous applause followed, Sir Ernest being brought back to the stage time and time. The concert was one of congratulation to Vancouver's orchestra, and the net proceeds were donated to the local Red Cross, through arrangements made by Brian Burden Murphy.

Victoria's fall Assizes, which opened shortly after 11 this morning, were adjourned within a few minutes when an accused failed to appear to face a charge of committing an indecent act in Saanich on August 2 last. The case was the only one listed. The jury called for the trial was dismissed and witnesses released.

ORCHESTRA NUMBERS

The program began with Mackenzie's overture "Britannia," with the theme of "Rule Britannia," being skillfully interwoven in the different sections of the orchestra, in which the spirited playing, under the alert and authoritative baton of Sir Ernest MacMillan, was a happy augury of all that followed. The "Fantasia for Strings," on a theme by Tallis, by Vaughan Williams, with its short solos for violin, viola (the tone of the viola playing was especially appealing) and the octette as continuo is a beautiful bit of writing for strings only, and proved one of the most delightful of the evening. It somewhat surprised that conductor MacMillan seemed a trifle over energetic in its delightful presentation.

Russians Back

Peace Moves

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Russia threw her weight behind Adolf Hitler's "peace" manoeuvres in an editorial in the government newspaper Izvestia.

Izvestia asserted Anglo-French arguments that the war must be prolonged to crush Hitlerism "makes us return to the gloomy Middle Ages when devastating religious wars were carried on for the purpose of extermination of heretics and people of different religions."

"It is impossible to exterminate any idea or opinion by fire and the sword," the newspaper said.

"One may respect or hate Hitlerism or any other system of political opinions. This is a matter of taste. But to begin a war for the extermination of Hitlerism means to admit to criminal silliness in policy."

Izvestia said the rapid "disintegration" of Poland was "irrefutable proof that its lack of vital power removes the causes for continuation of the war in Western Europe" and declared that Hitler's "proposals" were a "real, practical basis for negotiations for any early conclusion of peace."

The editorial quoted an article by George Bernard Shaw as saying: "The war in Poland is over. As Poland's cause is lost we have no further excuse for continuing the war."

"One must admit that Bernard Shaw is right in many respects," it commented.

"But for whose benefit is this war being waged for dominion of the world?"

"In any case, it is not for the benefit of the working class. The working class can only suffer in such a war."

The editorial charged the British and French "public classes" with attempting to "protect their colonies against German claims and enjoy unshared control over the exploitation of hundreds of millions of colonial slaves."

It said "attempts to neglect the peaceful proposals of Germany" meant "to assume responsibility for further development of the war, and in consequence, for the tremendous number of victims and the destruction connected with war."

Boris Karloff At Dominion

Weird...fascinating...only Karloff could play this thriller-packed role! Back from the grave for retribution comes a doctor turned demon, burning with a hate so strong that even the gals are powerless before the might of his bloodlust! Seeking vengeance against all the world yet able to love one girl! A story of revenge so terrible it defies even the grave as a murderous monster seeks to destroy the men who condemned him to die!

Karloff is seen in "The Man They Could Not Hang" at the Dominion Theatre. Lorna Gray, Robert Wilcox and Roger Pryor are featured in the story of a crazed scientist who conquers death only to use his achievement as an instrument of revenge. Others in the cast are Ann Doran, Charles Trowbridge, Byron Foulger, Don Beddoe, Stanley Brown and Joseph de Stefano.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Alexander Korda's stirring drama of adventure, "Four Feathers," filmed in Technicolor, is now at the Oak Bay Theatre.

"Four Feathers" is packed with action, thrills, melodrama and spectacle from the opening scene to the final fadeout. Its story centers upon a young man, Harry Faversham, who resigns his commission on the eve of his regiment's departure for the Sudan.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Jane Withers plays a jockey and does her own riding in the film "Checkers," now at the Columbia Theatre. Stuart Erwin, Una Merkel and Marvin Stephens are featured in the cast.

Jane already is a great horse-fancier. She owns two thoroughbreds, a chestnut mare and a buckskin pony. The latter holds 42 ribbons, six silver cups and numerous cash prizes.

ATLAS THEATRE

The foremost exponent of popular song, none other than the incomparable Bing Crosby, returns to the screen in a new comedy drama with music, a picture that is a glorious, singing cavalcade of show business. It's Paramount's "The Star Maker," which is being shown at the Atlas Theatre. Based on the amazing career of the famed showman, Gus Edwards, the picture casts Bing as "The Star Maker," a penniless song writer who's convinced that he's going places in show business.

PLAZA THEATRE

Nova Pilbeam, 18-year-old star of Alfred Hitchcock's "The Girl Was Young," a Gaumont production now playing at the Plaza Theatre, has her first adult and romantic screen role in this film. The former child star, heroine of "Nine Days a Queen," had previously appeared in a stage play in London, "The Lady of La Paz," and was received with wild acclaim. She is scheduled to be starred in another Alfred Hitchcock production in the near future.

In addition to Marney and Nova Pilbeam, the cast of "The Girl Was Young" features Percy Marmont, George Curzon, J. H. Roberts, Mary Clare, John Longder and Jerry Verno.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Creating the illusion of lacking a single joint in his entire body, and taking falls that would send any other man to a hospital, are the secrets of one of the strangest dances ever conceived as danced by Ray Bolger in "The Wizard of Oz," the spectacular musical now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

Bolger and dance director Bobby Connolly worked two months preparing the dance routine. Every step and every motion were worked out in advance and timed, the dance evolving as each new piece of business or step idea was generated. Bolger, playing the scarecrow, dances in a ragged, loose costume stuffed with straw. To carry out the illusion of a stuffed scarecrow, the dance is punctuated by collapses and twisted positions.

LEWIS ATTACKS

U.S. LABOR BOARD

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A program of liberal social legislation as "the most effective weapon" against the "complete reaction" of the anti-administration bloc in the United States Congress was urged at the opening session of the Congress of Industrial Organization's national convention here today by John L. Lewis.

Under-attacks of the A. F. of L. and industry, he said the labor board "has more than leaned over backwards," with the result that its administration "may completely destroy existing advantages which labor now enjoys under the act."

Hannington Court, newest addition to the "Court" fleet, is making her second trip to Victoria. She visited here earlier on her maiden voyage, also in the service of the Canadian Transport Company.

Holiday Excursions

Marine excursions attracted hundreds of people on the Thanksgiving Day holiday.

On her trip to Seattle yesterday, Ss. Princess Louise carried 750 Victorians, and 540 excursionists came here from Vancouver aboard Ss. Princess Adelaide.

There was a scene of great activity, with parking at a premium, at the Belleville Street docks at 10.45 last night when the Princess Louise returned from her Seattle cruise.

As the trippers trooped ashore a large outpouring list of week-enders boarded the regular night boat for Vancouver.

Fixed for Lumber

Ss. Gemstone will be the next freighter to take lumber at the Canadian National docks, coming here from Crofton. Other ships fixed for loading lumber include the Parakoola, Blaloch, Llanishan, Loch Dee, Vernon City and Hyton.

Maquinnia to West Coast

Taking her first sailing to the West Coast this fall, C.P.R. steamer Maquinnia will leave Victoria at 11 tomorrow night for Port Alice, Zeballos and way ports. She will have a heavy cargo and large passenger list. Princess Norah, which came on in from the west coast over the week-end, is now laid up in the Inner Harbor.

Normandie Laid Up for War Period

The 83,423-ton $50,000,000 French liner — moored at her pier here since her arrival August 22 — apparently was to stay here for the duration of Europe's new war.

Fourteen barrels of mothballs were used to preserve her luxurious furnishings which were crated and packed away.

Air Restrictions In Yukon Removed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States civil aeronautics authority announced today the Canadian government had removed restrictions against flying through the Yukon Territory and north of parallel 56 in British Columbia. Restrictions are still in force over other parts of Canada, the C.A.A. said.

Route of Pan-American Airways through Alaska cuts across the corner of British Columbia north of parallel 56 over the Yukon to Fairbanks. Numerous other Alaskan services make charter flights into the Yukon.

Fliers must obtain permission for other flights over Canada.

Charges Flare As Arbitrator Resigns

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pacific coast waterfront employers gathered here for an emergency session tomorrow, while charges flared between them and the powerful Congress for Industrial Organization longshoremen's union, after the resignation yesterday of Dean Wayne L. Morse as federal coast maritime arbitrator.

Marshall Dill, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, telegraphed President Roosevelt a plea for intervention in the new trouble which threatened to shatter a carefully-nurtured maritime peace along the United States west coast.

Dean Morse resigned because for the first time since he has acted as arbitrator an award he handed down was disregarded. Longshoremen continued to refuse "as individuals" to pass a ship-clerks' picket line at the Panama pier, though Morse had ruled this was "collusive picketing."

F. P. Foise, president of the San Francisco Waterfront Employers' Association, charged Harry Bridges, C.I.O. longshore leader and the union inner council, "fat in their own power, refuse to accept the principle of arbitration, . . . refused to heed the public interest."

Harry Lundberg, secretary of the Sailors' Union of the Pacific, said last night the first returns from sailors' union members indicated almost unanimous sentiment for ratification of a tentative new contract between the sailors and shipowners.

The new agreement covers off-shore and Alaska sailings, and increases the union's earning power by approximately 15 per cent over the agreement which expired September 30.

RIVER BOAT AFIRE ON LAST VOYAGE

DAWSON, Y.T. (CP) — Fire which broke out in the upper deck cabins of the White Pass and Yukon route's steamship Whitehorse as the vessel was making its last trip out of the Yukon River for the 1935 season, was controlled before causing extensive damage.

Four cabins were damaged slightly by the blaze, believed to have been caused by overheating of the main smoke stack. The Whitehorse was between the mouth of the Stewart River and Dawson when the fire started.

Passage of the steamer down the Yukon River marks the close of navigation until late next May.

To Hire B.C. Crew

SEATTLE (AP) — Capt. C. A. W. Van Duyk of the Dutch motor ship Djambi said he would hire a new crew in British Columbia to replace the crew which stayed here last week refusing to take the ship into Singapore and Hongkong unless paid a 50 per cent "war bonus."

The ship's officers, stewards and engine-room crew moved the vessel to New Westminster last week. The master said the men had been offered the 15 per cent war bonus paid all Dutch ship crews and transportation home and have refused both.

Capt. Van Duyk said 30 tons of dynamite will be loaded on Puget Sound for mines in Batavia.

Germany Ships Toys

NEW YORK (AP) — War has not stopped the shipment of Christmas toys from Germany to the United States.

A cargo of 1,200 tons of German-made toys arrived yesterday in the Holland-America Line freighter Boschdyk.

A ship official said the toys were shipped from the Reich to the Netherlands in 20 freight cars after the outbreak of war.

Wharf Contracts at Esquimalt Awarded

Two wharf extension contracts at Esquimalt have been placed with the Victoria Pile Driving Company Limited, it was announced by the local contracting company today. The information was released through Ken. W. Merton, federal district engineer in British Columbia. Cost of the work is estimated at $27,000.

The extension of the dockyard jetty will comprise an irregular-shaped structure, 99 feet in length and 67 feet at one end and 28 feet at the other. A small shed, 64 feet by 20 feet, will also be erected on the wharf.

The extension of the ordnance wharf will also be widened. The work will be started in about a week, it is stated by the contractors. The Victoria Pile Driving Company Limited has also secured a contract from the federal government for the reconstruction of the public wharf at Port Renfrew, west coast of Vancouver Island, at an approximate cost of $11,000.

The contract calls for the reconstruction of practically the whole of the wharf superstructure, as well as the building of a new cement approach pier. Parfitt Bros. Limited have the subcontract for the cement work.

No Nazi Warships Escape to Sea

LONDON (CP) — The navy was spurred to new vigilance today following clashes with German aircraft yesterday.

Air and sea patrols stood guard against any surprise manoeuvre by the German fleet, now bottled up in the Kiel Canal and the Baltic.

The British press said the fleet was taking every precaution to prevent the Germans from turning raiders loose in the Atlantic to prey on shipping.

Despite German claims to the contrary, British naval experts said all enemy attempts to harass the North Sea patrol from the air had failed.

Antiaircraft guns, the Admiralty said in a communique, were successful again yesterday in turning back German bombers which made repeated attacks on British war vessels.

The communique did not say whether any of the air-raiders had been shot down. Prime Minister Chamberlain meanwhile declined to amplify immediately his previous general statement of Britain's war aims.

In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Chamberlain said France and Britain's war purposes "have more than once been stated by both governments," and added: "No doubt as time goes on, both governments will consider whether their war aims should be stated in more specific form."

BRITISH CRUISER PAUSES AT RIO

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — A warship identified by the Brazilian naval staff as the 6,985-ton British cruiser Ajax arrived in the harbor today.

The Ajax was the first British ship to open operations in southern waters by sinking the German cargo ship Olinda September 3 after taking off the crew of 42.

With her sister ship, the Exeter, the cruiser is part of the America and West Indies squadron which has been bottling up German shipping in South American ports.

2 U.S. Fliers Missing In Washington

TACOMA (AP) — A low-hanging fog over southwest Washington stalemated today aerial efforts to locate two fliers missing since yesterday on a flight from Spokane to Fort Lewis.

Missing in a Washington national guard biplane are: Lieut. Edward E. Saxton, 23, of Spokane, and Pte. W. Shane of Hamilton Field, Calif.

Major Mark W. Clark, Fort Lewis public relations officer, announced an unidentified man called the fort last night and reported seeing a plane "apparently gliding for a landing near Lester, 30 miles northeast of Mount Rainier, yesterday."

Quessnel Liquor Store Robbed of $700

QUENNEL, B.C. (CP) — British Columbia Police today reported the safe in a British Columbia government liquor store here was blown open early yesterday and $700 in cash stolen.

Store employees are checking stock to discover if any liquor was taken by the safe crackers. Entrance to the building was gained by jimmying open the front door.

Mistake Led to New World Discovery

The name of Christopher Columbus has been written in other ways. The Italian form is "Christoforo Colombo," and the Spanish form is "Christobal Colon."

After leaving Italy, Columbus became a sailor on a Portuguese ship. He married a Portuguese woman.

Columbus telling his ideas to the Spanish rulers.

History might have been different if the King of Portugal had listened to Columbus. As early as 1474, the young sailor wanted to sail west in the hope of reaching India. He asked King John II to give him vessels for the purpose, but his request was not granted.

Columbus sent letters to the English King, Henry VIII. What would have happened if Henry had accepted the plan?

We can hardly blame monarchs of that time for not believing Columbus could succeed. It was the common idea that a trip across the Sea of Darkness (that is, the Atlantic ocean) would end in total loss. People supposed the ships would be lost, and that the sailors would meet death. There seemed enough danger to sea voyages without adding danger.

Yet a man with a plan may do what seems impossible. Columbus went to Spain, and there he kept talking to people about his great idea. It took him seven years to win his point. King Ferdinand did not really believe in him, even in 1492, but Queen Isabella took his side.

Spain was a sea-trading nation. If there was an all-water route to India, the Spanish rulers wanted to know it. There lately had been much trouble trading with India by the eastward route, in which goods had to be carried part way overland. Robber tribes had been capturing the caravans.

Sometimes we read that people in Europe wanted to get "spices" from India. That is part of the story, but only part. Perhaps more important were the silks and jewels which could be obtained by trade with the Orient.

Oddly enough, there would have been no voyage by Columbus if he had not made a mistake. He figured the earth to be much smaller than it is, and therefore expected to reach the Orient after a voyage of only a few thousand miles.

The straight-line distance westward from Spain to India is just about 14,000 miles. If Columbus had known that, he would not have dared to try such a journey.

HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 11

This is a day of mixed planetary aspects and after the early morning likely to be confusing and perplexing. Before breakfast the program for business or professional activities should be carefully made out, since then there is a sign encouraging to clear thought and wise judgment. Through the forenoon there may be obstacles and interruptions, but plans that have been made should be resolutely worked out.

Heart and Home: Although this is a lucky day for making new acquaintances, it is not stimulating to romance. Practical initiative is well directed. There may be accidents in the operation of the domestic machinery; caution is enjoined lest cuts and burns be sustained. This is a promising way for women who are interested in buying and selling. Heads of business enterprises should profit. The stars encourage the exercise of authority in home and shop.

Business Affairs: This should be a fairly fortunate date for launching a new enterprise or for expanding what is already started. Merchants and manufacturers will profit through the next few months. Bankers will meet many problems and will find much to test their foresight in the granting of loans.

International Affairs: Astrologers agree that the reign of world dictators will be limited, but they foretell that the end of ruthless power will not be accomplished until there has been a disaster of major proportions.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX--Did it ever occur to you that the jealousy of wives may be our heart hunger for some of the pleasant companionship that our husbands shower on the women they work with and never give the woman who stays at home looking after them and their children and their digestions? My husband is hale fellow well met in his place of business, but sheds his joking and pleasantness at the door with his hat and coat. I am told that abroad he is noted for being a witty talker, but he confines his conversation at home to expenses and bills, and if I suggest that he bring some of his business charm to bear on his family he accuses me of being catty.

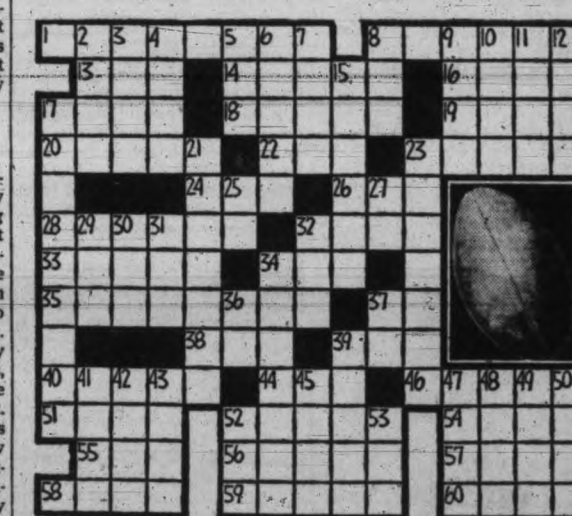

Answer: There is no doubt that many a man regards his home as a place where he can dump all the temper and nerves that he has to suppress during business hours, and that he vents on his wife and children all the irritation and the fury that he has not dared to expend upon cantankerous clients and insolent bosses.

This is pretty hard on the Little Woman and the kids, but psychiatrists tell us that home is a safety vent that keeps many a man from blowing up and bursting; that Papa relaxes himself by quarrelling with Mamma and kicking the cat and spanking the baby and sending little Johnny supperless to bed, and so is enabled to go back to work the next day and keep the family pot boiling.

So that's that. But it is no wonder that wives are jealous of these amiable and cheerful gentlemen whom they never see at home. They would be more than human if they didn't get a little green-eyed when they know how polite and gallant their husbands are to other women and how rude they are to them. And they can't help resenting how suave and diplomatically they handle their stenographers, who can give notice and quit, and how brusque they are in their treatment of the women who work for them for board and clothes, but who have to stick to their jobs.

DOROTHY DIX.

Forbes Starred
At Dardanelles
And Jutland

LONDON (CP) — A vast responsibility lies today on the shoulders of Admiral Sir Charles Forbes, commander-in-chief of the Home Fleet, the naval body which will play the biggest role in the new war unless the theatre of operations spreads to the Mediterranean.

Son of a Ceylon tea-planter, Forbes entered the navy at 13 as a cadet in the training ship Britannia. He specialized in gunnery, and as a lieutenant he was one of the favorite pupils of the late Lord Fisher, battle-scarred First Sea Lord, when the first Great War broke out.

Sir Charles' success is attributed to his natural ability, hard work and courageous conduct in action. In the attempt to force the Dardanelles in 1915, he was an executive officer aboard the battleship Queen Elizabeth. This was the ship which during the subsequent landings Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton used from which to direct his troops. The battleship at the same time dropped a few shells wherever a concentration of Turks was observed on the highlands.

ON STAFF AT JUTLAND.
Fleet gunnery officer at the Battle of Jutland in 1916, serving in the late Earl Jellicoe's staff in the flagship Iron Duke. Forbes there won the Distinguished Service Order. The following year he was promoted to the rank of captain. Lord Jellicoe's dispatch describing the Jutland action said Forbes "plotted the movements of the two fleets with rapidity and accuracy."

In 1925 Forbes went to the Admiralty as director of naval ordnance. He was promoted to the rank of rear-admiral when he gave up that position in 1928. In 1930 he went to the Mediterranean to command the fleet's destroyer flotilla. Then came another Admiralty post, as Third Sea Lord and Controller, which he held from 1932 to 1934.

Last year he succeeded the late Sir Roger Backhouse as Commander-in-Chief of the Home Fleet, when the latter was appointed First Sea Lord. Sir Charles' flagship is the 33,950-ton battleship Nelson, named for the hero of Trafalgar.

HOBBIES AND FAMILY

Sir Charles, now 58, is known as the best gardener in the navy. In days of peace he liked nothing better than putting about the grounds of Cawsand Place, the country home near Windsor where he spends most of his leaves.

Wearing a battered felt hat and a blue sweater, Sir Charles rolled up the sleeves of his flannel shirt, hung his jacket over a tree stump, and lashed out at the bracken with a scythe, handling the implement with the slow, rhythmic movements of an expert. His favorite Scotch terrier was his only companion. While the admiral hacked weeds, the dog rooted around his heels.

Sir Charles' special pride are the apple trees which fill his orchard. "Apple trees—that's the one thing I do know something about," he once told a reporter in the low, hesitant voice that helped create his reputation as "the most silent member of the silent service." The navy is popularly known as the "silent service" because it seldom advertises its activities.

Sir Charles has been twice married. His first wife, mother of his only son Charles whose defective eyesight forced him to leave the navy in 1935, died in 1915. Audrey, a daughter by his first wife, died of pneumonia at Malta in 1931. His second wife is Marie Louis Bernadotte of Stockholm, whom he married in 1921. They have one daughter.

Have Faith
Urges Dean

Broad interpretation of the message of the Bible is needed today to bring the faith which the world needs, said Dean Spencer H. Elliott in his sermon at the Thanksgiving service arranged by the Victoria Ministerial Association in Metropolitan United Church yesterday.

The service, interdenominational in character, was conducted by Rev. A. E. Whitehouse and the lesson was read by Adjutant Charles Watt of the Salvation Army.

"Have Faith in God," from Mark 11:22, was Dean Elliott's text. He referred to the difficulty of thanksgiving in present times when everyone's faith was strained. God's ways could not be judged, however, from the last month, next month, or even from the past 25 years, but one must go back over the centuries to realize that God remained on the throne of the universe.

There should be no narrow text hunting to meet today's need of faith but rather there should be a broader interpretation and understanding of the Bible's message. He pointed out there were certain contradictions in Biblical texts but faith was the keynote over the centuries.

Dean Elliott also gave the blessing at the close of the service.

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES?
TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 1/2-pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing becomes easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

save and the ball lodged between his legs. Athletics thought the ball passed the goal line and protested the goal-judge's decision. They asked to have a new judge put in the game, but their request was refused.

Another protested decision was made near the end of the second quarter when Cheevers was penalized for breaking the goal-crease rule. A goal scored by him at that time was disallowed on the ground he had run inside the crease to pick up a loose ball. Athletics claimed he had picked up the ball outside the crease.

"They were calling that crease rule on us all night," Brown said after the game. "Adanacs broke it plenty of times, but they never got any penalties for it." Several times throughout the games the Athletics attempted to pull off "block" plays, a type of attack perfected by the Adanacs which has been declared illegal in the east on the grounds it violates the game's interference rule. The attempts failed to bring them any goals and once, in the third period, the ball was taken from the Athletics when one of their blockers bumped into an Adanac while he was moving.

(Blocking is said to be legal under the interference rule if the blocker is not moving when he gets in the way of a player on the defending team who is trying to intercept the ball-carrier. If the blocker is moving when he touches a defender, he is penalized.)

sense of flamboyant humor has changed, unless he'd rather win a game than enjoy a joke, it seems difficult to see him as the he's apparent to Bobby Riggs. Not that he wasn't an agreeable fellow. He was. But sometimes an innate sense of the ridiculous can be highly detrimental to a tennis player.

In Victoria the younger element of the gallery enjoyed Frankie's little trick when he threw up two balls at once for his "baffle ball" service. But tricks like that, or the inclination to perform them, is not conducive to good impressions upon men who pick important teams like that which seek the Davis Cup.

VARSITY WINS

VANCOUVER (CP)—University of British Columbia's football machine rolled through Knights of Columbus for a crushing 20 to 1 victory in a Thanksgiving day Big Four Canadian rugby battle yesterday, and thus marked up a double triumph in as tough a week-end as they will face this season.

Jim Harmer kicked a field goal for the students in the first quarter and the Knights gained their only point of the game in the second session on a rouge. The heavy Varsity attack added three touchdowns and a deadline kick in the final half while stopping the Knights dead in their tracks. Only one of the major scores was converted.

ESKIMOS SCORE UPSET

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Eskimos today counted a 30 to 11 victory over Winnipeg Blue Bombers, leaders in the Western Interprovincial Rugby Football Union. And it was the first defeat of the season for the mighty Winnipeg aggregation.

Taking swift advantage of the breaks and pushing forward persistently, Eskimos last night stopped the Winnipeg string of victories at eight straight.

Eskimos scored 17 points in the weird fourth quarter to win the game. The home team broke up aerial attacks by Bombers and were in position to take full advantage of the breaks every time they came.

CALGARY (CP)—The razzle-dazzle Regina Roughriders uncovered an unexpected brilliant aerial attack and took quick advantage of a misjudged punt by Bus Weaver of Calgary to eke out an 8 to 7 triumph over Calgary Bronks under the floodlights before nearly 3,000 people last night.

EASTERN GAMES

Sparked by Eddie Thompson, captain, Toronto Balmy Beach held Sarnia's Imperials to a 6 to 6 tie in the annual Thanksgiving

Day meeting of the clubs at Toronto. With just 35 seconds to ply, Thompson kicked the point that brought the Balmies a deadlock.

As it was, Eddie created one of the only two close things in the senior teams' inaugural week-end in the east. In the other half of the O.R.F.U. program yesterday, Montreal Westmounts showed their expected strength in a crushing 22 to 1 success over the Orpans at Peterborough.

The Dominion champion Toronto Argonauts, starting their Big Four campaign, squeezed through in the other half-raiser with a 7 to 2 victory over Montreal Royals at Toronto Saturday. Ottawa Rough Riders, favored in many quarters to depose the Argos, stomped to a 32 to 4 triumph over Hamilton Tigers at the nation's capital.

Though they had to come from behind to do it, University of Western Ontario Mustangs got away successfully Saturday by defeating Queen's University of Kingston 32 to 17 at London. University of Toronto, minus some tonight stars through injuries, had enough to hammer McGill 19 to 6 at Montreal in the other intercollegiate union curtain-raiser.

Motor vehicle accidents during 1938 cost $750,000,000 in wage loss, medical expense and the overhead cost of insurance, plus another $750,000,000 for property damage.

C.G.I.T. NOTES

The Canadian Girls-In-Training group of the First United Church appointed Miss Jean Wilson as department head, a position vacated last year by Miss Lauretta McCall. Partly because two other leaders, Miss Winnie Hartley and Miss Charlotte Crawford, have also left the C.G.I.T., and partly because of the growing enrollment, five new leaders have been selected. These are the Misses Black, Peters, E. Peden, I. Jeune and C. Webster. Department officers elected at the last meeting were: President, Rita Millhouse; vice-president, Peggy Pepper; secretary, Barbara Munro; press reporter, Muriel Prndergast. The new office of pianist has been made, but will be filled later.

The Junior Catholic Women's League will meet this evening at 8 at the home of Miss Louise Micheaux, 528 Trutch Street.

Canadian Nickel

IN TRANSPORTATION, FACTORY, FARM AND FOREST

As the Empire organizes for increased production Canadian Nickel plays an increasingly important role.

Ships traverse waterways and oceans with condenser tubes of Cupro-Nickel which has lasted six times as long as other metals in this service. Nickel Steels and other Nickel alloys give great strength, reduce wear and breakage and resist corrosion by salt water in vital parts of engines, turbines, shafts and propellers. Freighters, their holds lined with pure Nickel which is rust-proof, corrosion-resistant, and quickly and completely cleaned with live steam, carry cargoes of chemicals, wheat, kerosene, and other materials on successive trips with no fear of contamination.

On our farms and in our forests, in shops, factories, railroads and in heavy industry, new equipment and machinery call for the use of Nickel and still more Nickel to bring strength, dependability and reduced breakdowns at this critical period when production must be maintained.

And so as Empire industry gears itself for whatever production may be required, the Nickel industry stands ready to do its share.
